4-Day Session Planned by GOP

But Convention Hall Reserved for 8 Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican organization leaders have approved plans for a streamlined five-session, four-day national convention despite the renewed possibility of a contest over the presidential nomination.

National Chairman Thruston B. Morton predicted such a contest Thursday following New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's challenge to Vice President Richard M. Nixon to speak out on the issues. But Morton also stressed his belief that Nixon has the nomination practically in the bag.

Shortly afterward, a convention arrangements committee headed by Morton approved plans for a four-day convention opening July 25 in Chicago. Day and night sessions will be held the opening day, and only night sessions the following three days. Sessions would last three or four hours if no hitches developed.

Although no lengthy fights are anticipated, J. Lee Jones of Utah said the national committee has reserved the International Amphitheater, the convention site, for eight days just in case. Jones is vice chairman of the arrangements committee.

The national committee meets today to approve convention officers picked by the arrangements committee Thursday. Several speeches also were set.

Jones said the only day session of the convention will be for the purpose of organizing. This session on opening day will start at 10 a.m. Central Daylight Time. The evening session that day will start at 7:30 p.m. and will feature the keynote speech by Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minnesota.

The Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday sessions also will start at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday night is being talked of for a speech by President Eisenhower. The platform may be presented the same night.

Wednesday night has been set aside for nominating speeches and roll calls on the nominations for president and vice president. The final night session will be for acceptance speeches by the nominees.

Election Board Divides Two Area Precincts

The Pickaway County Board of Elections last night divided Pickaway and Washington Twp. into two voting precincts each.

The election board made the move due to the increase in voters. In the November, 1958 election, 451 persons voted in Pickaway Twp. and 417 balloted in Washington Twp.

Ohio code provides that when precinct voting reaches more than 400, it should be divided.

The Kingston Pike will be the dividing line for Pickaway Twp. The area west of the Kingston Pike will be known as Pickaway Twp. West, and the area east of the Pike will be Pickaway Twp. East.

THE Circleville - Stoutsville Pike will be the dividing line in Washington Twp. The area north of the Pike will be known as Washington Twp. North, and the area south of the Pike will be Washington Twp. South.

A hearing on the proposed division will be 4 p.m. June 21 in the election board office in the basement of the courthouse.

The voting booth locations have not been set, but will be utilized for the August all - county registration.

Missile Strike To Spread To Other Factories Monday

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Union spokesmen say the strike against Convair's far-flung missile facilities will spread Monday to the firm's big airplane and missile-making plants here.

The move would idle 20,000 workers building Atlas intercontinental missiles, F106 interceptors and speedy new Convair 660 and 880 jet transports.

The walkout is slated as a one-day affair, called by the 6,000-member Engineers and Architects Assn.

Officials of the International Assn. of Machinists Thursday night said it would order IAM workers not to cross the EAA's picket line.

The move came as talks between the firm and the two unions remained deadlocked.

On another front in Southern California's troubled plane-and-missile scene, there was one hopeful note: Lockheed Aircraft Corp.'s missiles and space division was expected to make an announcement — possibly a new contract offer—at a meeting in San Francisco today with another IAM union.

Involved are 10,500 employees at Lockheed facilities in Van Nuys, Sunnyvale, Santa Cruz and Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., and at Holloman AFB, N.M., and in Hawaii.

The IAM has authorized a strike at the Douglas aircraft plant in Santa Monica, Calif., next week. The United Auto Workers has set a June 15 strike deadline at the Douglas plant in Long Beach.

4-Year Pact Brings End to Stage Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Actors and producers ratified a four-year contract Thursday night to end the week-long Broadway stage black-out.

Plans were made to reopen 19 of the 22 shows by Monday night.

The League of New York Theaters, representing the producers, unanimously agreed to accept a peace formula hammered out earlier Thursday under the direction of City Labor Commissioner Harold A. Felix. Members of Actors Equity Assn., by secret ballot, voted 773-54 for acceptance.

David Merrick, one of the producers, said he did not think the settlement would force a raise in ticket prices. "With careful management," Merrick said, "we will be able to hold the price line."

Under the new contract Broadway actors get their first pension fund, the crux of the dispute which shuttered Shubert Alley. The pension terms extend for six years, two years beyond the life of the pact.

Other terms are: Minimum pay for actors on the road will be $145 for the next two years and $150 the following two years. The present minimum is $135.

Per diem pay out of town goes to $10 or $12.50 depending on whether rehearsal payments are made. The present minimum is $7.50.

Rehearsal pay will be $82.50 for the first two years of the contract, $92.50 in 1962, and $97.50 starting in 1963. The minimum now is $75.

Minimum New York pay for actors goes from $103.50 to $117.50 a week.

At Lockheed missile plants the wage scale now averages $2.65 an hour. The union is asking 7 per cent increases in each of the next two years.

Methodists State Beliefs In Resolutions

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP)—Delegates attending the annual session of the Ohio Conference of the Methodist Church here voted Thursday to increase the number of districts in the conference area from 11 to 13, effective in 1962.

During the next conference year, a committee will redistribute the churches in the districts as they are now organized. The increase in districts will mean that the average number of charges administered by a district superintendent will be 48 instead of the present 60.

In other action Thursday the delegates: Went on record as opposed to capital punishment, commending the efforts of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle to outlaw such punishment in Ohio.

Supported the position of the Methodist Church encouraging planned parenthood and called a worldwide program of education for birth control a matter of necessity for world peace.

Called for development of a climate that will make possible racial integration in churches of the conference.

They also urged the North Central Jurisdictional Conference to make a study of financial problems which are delaying transfer of churches from the Central (Negro) Jurisdiction into the white conferences of the Methodist Church in Ohio.

'Pipeline That's a Lifeline' Due For Completion in Another Month

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The "pipeline that's a lifeline" should be completely in operation in southeastern Ohio within a month.

It's the Burr Oak Pipeline, designed to carry a million gallons of water a day from the Burr Oak Lake flood control project in Athens and Morgan counties to seven former coal towns.

State officials think of the 21-mile pipeline as a lifeline because they say it will open a new era of prosperity for the communities of Glouster, Trimble, Jacksonsville, and Hollister in Athens County; Shawnee and New Straitsville in Perry County and Murray City in Hocking County.

Equipment delays have pushed the completion date beyond the May 15 estimate. Project Engineer Ned E. Williams explained today. But he said the first half-serving Glouster, Trimble and Jacksonsville—should be ready in a week, "or two weeks at the most."

Screaming Japanese Leftists Besiege Eisenhower Aides

Nixon, Rockefeller Cordial at Fair

NEW YORK (AP) — Politically feuding Vice President Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller met cordially at a British trade exhibition today and smilingly shook hands.

The personal encounter was the first since their recent exchange of statements concerning the future of the Republican party and the nation.

Nixon had arrived first at the New York Coliseum, with Prince Philip, who was here to officially open the exhibition.

The vice president was standing in an anteroom off the main lobby when Gov. and Mrs. Rockefeller arrived.

Nixon strode over to Rockefeller and extended his hand. Rockefeller grasped it, pumped it heartily.

Earlier Nixon claimed he has discussed key issues in more detail than Rockefeller who had prodded him to make his views known before the Republican nomination conference.

In reply, Nixon suggested that the two "have a discussion in depth" before television cameras. The New York governor promptly rejected the proposal. He said Nixon "does not need me to interrogate him on television."

"Once the vice president has made clear his position on the specific issues I have raised, I shall be glad to debate these issues with him."

Nixon told a news conference late Thursday, in answer to criticism fired his way Wednesday by Rockefeller, that he had clearly stated his views on key issues.

"I have set forth with great precision and major detail my views on the issues more than any other candidate," said the vice president.

But he indicated he is considering no change in his plans to wait until he gets the nomination before going beyond administration policies. He said he supports the Eisenhower record as "the best record in my lifetime."

At the same time, he avoided direct controversy with Rockefeller, whom he described as a man of integrity. He also said Rockefeller has a right, if he wishes, to criticize the administration or the Republican party.

The soft tone of his replies seemed to indicate that, confident of winning the nomination, Nixon is looking more toward the general election campaign and seeking to avoid alienating Rockefeller supporters. New York's 45 electoral votes could be decisive in November.

Nixon said he had held 47 news conferences "with no holds barred" during the last five months. He said that over the past 14 years "in the House and Senate and the vice presidency I have entertained questions on every major issue."

But Rockefeller countered with: "Only three weeks ago, the vice president stated publicly, 'If I become the candidate, I intend to present to the country a new program.'"

OSU Graduates Given Choice: Greatness or Indolence

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The coming decade of high income for the masses can breed indolence and complacency or can raise America to a new level of greatness, 2,291 Ohio State University graduates were told today.

The words of caution and promise came from Dr. Novice G. Fawcett, Ohio State's president.

Moral and spiritual decadence, he asserted, is the most serious threat to this nation's freedom.

"The responsibility of freedom rests too lightly on our shoulders for our safety as a free people," Dr. Fawcett declared, adding:

"When payola is a subject for witty repartee; when an afternoon bridge game becomes a perfectly good excuse for failing to exercise the right to vote; when even a few allegedly educated men and women build their lives around the question—'What's in it for me?'—then it would appear that the most serious threat to our freedom is not an external one."

Dr. Fawcett told the state's largest graduating class:

"What is important is that you produce the utmost that is in you and that you do it for a nobler purpose than self-gratification."

"It would be the height of stupidity for men and women of your potential to settle for a bland, spiritually empty, morally bankrupt, third-rate life when a first-rate life is within your reach."

"While you graduate in a period of unbelievable opportunities for material abundance, you also graduate in an era when our survival as free men and women hinges on our intellectual and moral strength."

The total number of degrees awarded today includes 244 masters' and 87 doctors' degrees.

U.S. President To Make Trip Despite Riots

Press Secretary, Envoys Unhurt as Mob Cracks Car Windows

TOKYO (AP) — Ten thousand screaming leftist demonstrators, fighting against an Eisenhower visit to Japan, besieged the car of White House press secretary James C. Hagerty for more than an hour today, slashing the tires and cracking windows.

Finally, a helicopter was used to rescue Hagerty, U.S. Ambassador to Japan Douglas MacArthur II, and White House appointments secretary Thomas E. Stephens. None of them was injured.

Hagerty and Stephens had just arrived to scout Eisenhower's trip, and started into Tokyo from the airport, along the route Eisenhower is scheduled to follow nine days hence. That visit is on, Hagerty announced, despite today's demonstration — and the White House in Washington added confirmation that the plans still hold.

Tokyo police said they had been caught by surprise today, though the demonstration against Hagerty had been announced in advance.

"It was a big blunder for us," a police spokesman said. "The Japanese government apologized."

Hagerty told a news conference tonight:

"We are sure that the demonstrations in no way reflect the feeling and the attitude of the great majority of the Japanese people for whom America has the warmest friendship."

In Washington, associate press secretary Anne Wheaton said the President had "expressed gratification" that Hagerty and White House appointment secretary Thomas E. Stephens, who was with him, were not hurt by the demonstrators.

Asked whether the President would still go to Japan, Mrs. Wheaton said, "I know of no change in plans."

Hagerty, here to complete arrangements for Eisenhower's visit, said the demonstration was obviously carefully planned. He said the fact that the demonstrators were singing the "Internationale"—the song of international communism—raised doubts whether they even had allegiance to Japan.

The demonstrators, out to convince Hagerty that Eisenhower should postpone his trip, claim their real target is Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi because his Liberal Democratic party pushed the new U.S.-Japan security alliance through the lower house of Parliament in a violent session May 20.

At his news conference Hagerty was asked whether it would not be risking Eisenhower's safety to bring him to Japan in the present turmoil.

"I wouldn't think so," Hagerty replied. "He will be a guest of

Berger Hospital Rates Questioned

Is Berger Hospital over-charging Pickaway County relief agencies for indigent medical cases receiving hospital care?

Hospital Administrator Alva J. Williamson denied this claim, stating Berger was charging relief agencies only its costs, nothing more.

This and other questions, and problems were discussed Wednesday at a meeting of the County Commissioners, the County Welfare Department and County Soldiers' Relief Commission with the Board of Governors of city - county owned Berger Hospital.

The session was an outgrowth of complaints by both local relief agencies that Berger's rates are not in line with surrounding hospitals.

THE PRESENT rate at Berger is $27.59 per day, which does not include doctor's fees. Comparable hospital fees which do not include doctors' fees, are: Chillicothe, $24.69; Fayette Memorial, Washington, C. H., $22.62; Lancaster - Fairfield, $23.64; Waverly, $23.07 and Grant, $26.39; Mercy, $26.40 and St. Ann's, $26.45, all of Columbus.

Clark Plans Salvage Firm

Route 23 Bypass Location Selected

Jack E. Clark, Williamsport, Wednesday leased the Apple House property, one mile north of Circleville on the Route 23 Bypass, for establishment of the Circleville Auto and Truck Wrecking firm.

The property, owned by Dr. John N. Bowers, 815 Arbor Road, was leased for 10 years on a "rental-purchase basis," Clark said.

Clark is the owner of the Deercreek Auto Parts, Route 1, Williamsport, a giant wrecking yard. The site contains 4,000 salvage automobiles and trucks spread over a 40-acre area east of Williamsport. Clark said yesterday that he hopes to open his establishment next week. He will operate it himself. Clark plans to expand his enterprise into a large operation.

HE SAID this is the second step in his expansion plans. He also has in mind to stock new auto and truck parts along with used parts in the building which formerly housed a fruit market.

Clark has been in the wrecking business for the past six years. His business has grown considerably during the period. He purchases salvage vehicles in a 10-state area.

City, County Students Get OSU Degrees

Several Circleville and Pickaway County students were slated to be graduated from Ohio State University today.

Circleville students taking part in commencement exercises were:

Richard T. Alkire, bachelor of arts; James E. Bartholomew, doctor of dental surgery; Barbara Schumm Bennington, bachelor of science in education; Diane Holliger Berger, bachelor of science in physical therapy; Lee In Sook Brungs, bachelor of science in business administration; Jo Ann Lewis Phillips, bachelor of science in education; Robert E. Rittinger, bachelor of laws; Nancy Barnhill Saunier, bachelor of science in education; Mary J. Smith, bachelor of science in nursing; Robert G. Smith Jr., doctor of medicine; Howard G. Weaver, bachelor of arts.

Ashville — Judith A. Bowers, bachelor of science in nursing; Barbara Moss Hopper, bachelor of science in nursing; Judith L. Hosler, bachelor of arts; Billy L. Weaver, bachelor of science in business administration.

Williamsport — Virgil L. Anderson, bachelor of chemical engineering.

Ohio State University President J. Lee Jones delivered the 3rd Spring Quarter Commencement address.

Four capital city hospitals have an all-inclusive rate. Their rates are $24.25, University, $31.40 and White Cross, $26.02.

Relief officials not only claim Berger's rates are way out of line, but that it refuses to submit itemized statements or give the agencies the choice of taking the lower of two rates — the relief rate or the regular charge.

They claim that other hospitals itemize all statements and submit the relief rate or regular charge. Then the agencies have the choice of paying the lower of the two.

"But," stated Miss Pauline Roese, County Welfare Director, "I have requested itemized statements and have been refused by local hospital officials."

SERVICE Officer James Shea, representing the Soldiers' Relief Commission, gave an example. He said his department hospitalized a patient for 72 days at a cost of $1,986.48, plus $171.50 in doctors' fees.

He said the patient was in a ward where regular rates are $13.75 per day. If his Commission had been charged the regular rate, the cost would have been $999 or nearly $1,000 under the relief rate.

Shea said he is quite certain medicines wouldn't have cost $1,000.

The Commissioners levied the following complaints saying they heard them from numerous sources:

Berger is over - staffed, is operating inefficiently, is giving employees free meals and coffee breaks and allowing doctors to use hospital drugs for their own patients.

Hospital Administrator Alva Williamson denied the accusation. He said the hospital only is over-staffed when doctors go on vacations and don't admit patients but at other times is over - worked.

HE SIMPLY denied the hospital is operating inefficiently. Williamson said it is customary to allow employees one free meal and coffee breaks. One member of the hospital board said Lancaster-Fairfield eliminated free meals, but gives its employees a $10 a month increase.

Williamson denied doctors are using hospital drugs for their own patients. He blamed the higher relief rate and hospital costs on the fact that 43 per cent of Berger's

Police Check On Vandalism

Circleville Police investigated two cases of vandalism here last night.

Officers said several windows were broken at the Brehmer Greenhouse on N. Court St. It was the second time within a week rocks were reported thrown at the glass building.

Speakman told officers rocks were thrown through sheeting, drain tiles were thrown into a basement and broken and shingles were destroyed on several houses under construction.

The soft tone of his replies seemed to indicate that, confident of winning the nomination, Nixon is looking more toward the general election campaign and seeking to avoid alienating Rockefeller supporters. New York's 45 electoral votes could be decisive in November.

Nixon said he had held 47 news conferences "with no holds barred" during the last five months. He said that over the past 14 years "in the House and Senate and the vice presidency I have entertained questions on every major issue."

But Rockefeller countered with: "Only three weeks ago, the vice president stated publicly, 'If I become the candidate, I intend to present to the country a new program.'"

'Pipeline That's a Lifeline' Due For Completion in Another Month

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The "pipeline that's a lifeline" should be completely in operation in southeastern Ohio within a month.

It's the Burr Oak Pipeline, designed to carry a million gallons of water a day from the Burr Oak Lake flood control project in Athens and Morgan counties to seven former coal towns.

State officials think of the 21-mile pipeline as a lifeline because they say it will open a new era of prosperity for the communities of Glouster, Trimble, Jacksonvill, and Hollister in Athens County; Shawnee and New Straitsville in Perry County and Murray City in Hocking County.

Equipment delays have pushed the completion date beyond the May 15 estimate. Project Engineer Ned E. Williams explained today. But he said the first half—serving Glouster, Trimble and Jacksonvill—should be ready in a week, "or two weeks at the most."

made clear his position on the specific issues I have raised, I shall be glad to debate these issues with him."

Nixon told a news conference late Thursday, in answer to criticism fired his way Wednesday by Rockefeller, that he had clearly stated his views on key issues.

"I have set forth with great precision and major detail my views on the issues more than any other candidate," said the vice president.

But he indicated he is considering no change in his plans to wait until he gets the nomination before going beyond administration policies. He said he supports the Eisenhower record as "the best record in my lifetime."

At the same time, he avoided direct controversy with Rockefeller, whom he described as a man of integrity. He also said Rockefeller has a right, if he wishes, to criticize the administration or the Republican party.

OSU Graduates Given Choice: Greatness or Indolence

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The coming decade of high income for the masses can breed indolence and complacency or can raise America to a new level of greatness, 2,291 Ohio State University graduates were told today.

The words of caution and promise came from Dr. Novice G. Fawcett, Ohio State's president.

Moral and spiritual decadence, he asserted, is the most serious threat to this nation's freedom.

"The responsibility of freedom rests too lightly on our shoulders for our safety as a free people," Dr. Fawcett declared, adding:

"When payola is a subject for witty repartee; when an afternoon bridge game becomes a perfectly good excuse for failing to exercise the right to vote; when even a few allegedly educated men and women build their lives around the question—'What's in it for me?'—then it would appear that the most serious threat to our freedom is not an external one."

Dr. Fawcett told the state's largest graduating class:

"What is important is that you produce the utmost that is in you and that you do it for a nobler purpose than self-gratification."

"It would be the height of stupidity for men and women of your potential to settle for a bland, spiritually empty, morally bankrupt, third-rate life when a first-rate life is within your reach. . . ."

"While you graduate in a period of unbelievable opportunities for material abundance, you also graduate in an era when our survival as free men and women hinges on our intellectual and moral strength."

The total number of degrees awarded today includes 244 masters' and 87 doctors' degrees.

U.S. President To Make Trip Despite Riots

Press Secretary, Envoy Unhurt as Mob Cracks Car Windows

TOKYO (AP) — Ten thousand screaming leftist demonstrators, fighting against an Eisenhower visit to Japan, besieged the car of White House press secretary James C. Hagerty for more than an hour today, slashing the tires and cracking windows.

Finally, a helicopter was used to rescue Hagerty, U.S. Ambassador to Japan Douglas MacArthur II, and White House appointments secretary Thomas E. Stephens. None of them was injured.

Hagerty and Stephens had just arrived to scout Eisenhower's trip, and started into Tokyo from the airport, along the route Eisenhower is scheduled to follow nine days hence. That visit is on, Hagerty announced, despite today's demonstration — and the White House in Washington added confirmation that the plans still hold.

Tokyo police said they had been caught by surprise today, though the demonstration against Hagerty had been announced in advance.

"It was a big blunder for us," a police spokesman said. The Japanese government apologized.

Hagerty told a news conference tonight:

"We are sure that the demonstrations in no way reflect the feeling and the attitude of the great majority of the Japanese people for whom America has the warmest friendship."

In Washington, associate press secretary Anne Wheaton said the President had "expressed gratification" that Hagerty and White House appointment secretary Thomas E. Stephens, who was with him, were not hurt by the demonstrators.

Asked whether the President would still go to Japan, Mrs. Wheaton said, "I know of no change in plans."

Hagerty, here to complete arrangements for Eisenhower's visit, said the demonstration was obviously carefully planned. He said the fact that the demonstrators were singing the "Internationale"—the song of international communism—raised doubts whether they even had allegiance to Japan.

The demonstrators, out to convince Hagerty that Eisenhower should postpone his trip, claim their real target is Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi because his Liberal Democratic party pushed the new U.S.-Japan security alliance through the lower house of Parliament in a violent session May 20.

At his news conference Hagerty was asked whether it would not be risking Eisenhower's safety to bring him to Japan in the present turmoil.

"I wouldn't think so," Hagerty replied. "He will be a guest of (Continued on Page 2)

Berger Hospital Rates Questioned

Is Berger Hospital over-charging Pickaway County relief agencies for indigent medical cases receiving hospital care?

Hospital Administrator Alva J. Williamson denied this claim, stating Berger was charging relief agencies only its costs, nothing more.

This and other questions and problems were discussed Wednesday at a meeting of the County Commissioners, the County Welfare Department and County Soldiers' Relief Commission with the Board of Governors of city-county owned Berger Hospital.

The session was an outgrowth of complaints by both local relief agencies that Berger's rates are not in line with surrounding hospitals.

THE PRESENT rate at Berger is $27.50 per day, which does not include doctor's fees. Comparable hospital fees which do not include doctors' fees are:

Chillicothe, $24.69; Fayette Memorial, Washington C. H., $22.62; Lancaster - Fairfield, $23.64; Waverly, $23.67 and Grant, $26.39; Mercy, $26.40 and St. Ann's, $26.45, all of Columbus.

Clark Plans Salvage Firm

Route 23 Bypass Location Selected

Jack E. Clark, Williamsport, Wednesday leased the Apple House property, one mile north of Circleville on the Route 23 Bypass, for establishment of the Circleville Auto and Truck Wrecking firm.

The property, owned by Dr. John N. Howers, 815 Arbor Road, was leased for 10 years on a rental-purchase basis, Clark said.

Clark is the owner of the Deer Creek Auto Parts, Route 1, Williamsport, a giant wrecking yard. The site contains 4,000 salvage automobiles and trucks spread over a 40-acre area east of Williamsport.

Clark said yesterday that he hopes to open his establishment next week. He will operate it himself. Clark plans to expand his enterprise into a large operation.

HE SAID this is the second step in his expansion plans. He also has in mind to stock new auto and truck parts along with used parts in the building which formerly housed a fruit market.

Clark has been in the wrecking business for the past six years. His business has grown considerably during the period. He purchases salvage vehicles in a 10-state area.

Several Circleville and Pickaway County students were slated to be graduated from Ohio State University today.

Circleville students taking part in commencement exercises were: Richard T. Alkire, bachelor of arts; James E. Bartholomew, doctor of dental surgery; Barbara Schumm Bennington, bachelor of science in education; Lee In Soek Brungs, bachelor of science in business administration; Jo Ann Lewis Phillips, bachelor of science in education; Robert E. Rittinger, bachelor of laws; Nancy Barnhill Saurier, bachelor of science in education; Mary J. Smith, bachelor of science in nursing; Robert G. Smith Jr., doctor of medicine; Howard G. Weaver, bachelor of arts.

Asheville — Judith A. Bowers, bachelor of science in nursing; Barbara Moss Hopper, bachelor of science in nursing; Judith L. Hosler, bachelor of arts; Billy L. Weaver, bachelor of science in business administration.

Four capital city hospitals have an all-inclusive rate. Their rates are $24.25; University, $31.40 and White Cross, $26.02.

Relief officials not only claim Berger's rates are way out of line, but that it refuses to submit itemized statements or give the agencies the choice of taking the lower of two rates — the relief rate or the regular charge.

They claim that other hospitals itemize all statements and submit the relief rate or regular charge. Then the agencies have the choice of paying the lower of the two.

"But," stated Miss Pauline Reese, County Welfare Director, "I have requested itemized statements and have been refused by local hospital officials."

SERVICE Officer James Shea, representing the Soldiers' Relief Commission, gave an example. He said his department hospitalized a patient for 72 days at a cost of $1,986.48, plus $171.50 in doctors' fees.

He said the patient was in a ward where regular rates are $13.75 per day. If his Commission had been charged the regular rate, the cost would have been $999 or nearly $1,000 under the relief rate.

Shea said he is quite certain medicines wouldn't have cost $1,000.

The Commissioners levied the following complaints saying they heard them from numerous sources:

Berger is over-staffed, is operating inefficiently, is giving employees free meals and coffee breaks and allowing doctors to use hospital drugs for their own patients.

Hospital Administrator Alva Williamson denied the accusation. He said the hospital only is over-staffed when doctors go on vacations and don't admit patients but at other times is over-worked.

HE SIMPLY denied the hospital is operating inefficiently. Williamson said it is customary to allow employees one free meal and coffee breaks. One member of the hospital board said Lancaster-Fairfield eliminated free meals, but gives its employees a $10 a month increase.

Williamson denied doctors are using hospital drugs for their own patients. He blamed the higher relief rate and hospital costs on the fact that 43 per cent of Berger's (Continued on Page 2)

Police Check On Vandalism

Circleville Police investigated two cases of vandalism here last night.

Officers said several windows were broken at the Brehmer Greenhouse on N. Court St. It was the second time within a week rocks were reported thrown at the glass building.

George Speakman, local contractor, said extensive damage was inflicted at a site in the Georgia Road-Edward Ave. area where new homes are being built.

Speakman told officers rocks were thrown through a sheeting, a rain tiles were thrown into a basement and broken and shingles were destroyed on several houses under construction.

8-Mile Hocking Trail Laid Out

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An eight-mile segment of the Buckeye Trail in Hocking County has been completed. Dr. Roy Fairfield, president of the Buckeye Trail Association, reports. It is the first marking of the trail.

Fairfield, editor Bill Miller of the Logan Daily News, and Tom Lloyd of Logan marked the first segment with a special blue paint. The portion starts at Ash Cave and extends north to Big Rocky Fork Creek. Fairfield has set up a trail-marking bee Sunday, July 26, and hopes to complete the Hocking County leg of the hiking path then.

Argentina-Israel Accord Is Sought

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Western diplomats are trying to work out a face-saving compromise to avert a showdown between Argentina and Israel in the United Nations over Adolf Eichmann.

Argentina charged the seizure of Eichmann by Jewish commandos in Buenos Aires violated her sovereignty and said she would appeal to the U. N. unless Israel returned him. The former Nazi is accused of helping direct Hitler's extermination of the Jews.

Informed sources in Buenos Aires said Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion would not comply with the Argentine demand. But he was reported to have sent a conciliatory letter to Argentine President Arturo Frondizi.

Official sources in Buenos Aires said Argentina would sympathetically consider mediation of the dispute by some foreign country or a suggestion that the case be taken up by the International Court in The Hague.

Diplomats in the South American capital speculated that a European country — perhaps France — might be asked to mediate. Frondizi and Ben-Gurion will both be touring Europe next week and

A trio of cooling summer refreshments, introduced across the country for the first time this season, will be available here from Med-O-Pure All-Star Dairy in Washington Court House.

The trio is made up of three drinks inspired by the tropical fruits of Hawaii. They are Hawaiian Orange Drink, Hawaiian Lemon Drink and Hawaiian Fruit Drink. The Fruit Drink is a blend of orange, apple, grapefruit, pineapple, grapes and lemon.

The fruit-flavored drinks are non-carbonated. They are delicious by themselves and equally good served like a "Soda", with a scoop of ice cream or shirt add.

This variety of summer treats, good for the whole family, is introduced by the All Star Dairy Association, of which Med-O-Pure is a member.

The fruit drinks are made daily by the individual dairies. They come in handy no-deposit, no-return half-gallon cartons.

Fears and Rumors Take Firm Grip On Belgian Congo

EDITOR'S NOTE: Saul Pett, AP staff writer, is on a tour of Central Africa, reporting about the nations which are getting their independence or pushing for freedom from colonial ties. This dispatch tells of the critical situation in the Belgian Congo.

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (AP)—As a colony, the big rich Belgian Congo is dying in a convulsion of fear, rumor and confusion. One nightmare haunts the white community.

Last Touhy Brother Dies In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—The last of "The Terrible" Touhy brothers is dead. Thomas (Terrible Tommy) Touhy succumbed to cancer without realizing his hope to avenge the death of his brother—Roger "The Terrible" who was gunned down by assassins Dec. 16.

The Sun-Times disclosed his death today. The paper says he died May 16 at the home of relatives. Tommy had been quoted as saying in the past: "I don't want to end up full of bullet holes in the street. I want to die in bed with my family around me." He died in bed but there were no brothers around him. Roger was shot to death 23 days after leaving prison. Two other brothers were killed during the Capone era gang wars. Another died in prison of tuberculosis. James, who ran a roadhouse, died of natural causes. Tommy, released from prison in 1947 after serving 11 years for a $78,000 mail robbery, had said that "Rog got the blame for a lot of things I did. He even got my nickname, 'The Terrible,' pinned on him. He didn't deserve it. He was just a bootlegger."

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:
Dry weather continued over Ohio Thursday and Thursday night. Afternoon temperatures Thursday ranged from 71 at Toledo to 82 at Chesapeake.
Early morning temperatures today were as low as 46 at Toledo, 47 at Zanesville. Light fog formed during the night in the Ohio River Valley but skies were fair this morning.
A large high pressure area which has prevented rain in Ohio since Monday is beginning to weaken. However, a rain is expected in the state before early next week.
Temperatures over the weekend will be generally in the low 80s during the afternoons.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECAST
Temperatures will average about 4 degrees above normal north to near normal south. Normal high 79 north to 82 south, normal low 57-60. Little temperature change throughout period. Precipitation will total less than one-quarter inch, with chance of scattered thundershowers about Tuesday or Wednesday.

Higher County Fees Bring in $4 Million
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Four million dollars more in county revenues were collected last year, when a new law enabling county officials to charge higher fees went into effect July 17. Figures compiled by State Auditor James A. Rhodes showed that total fees collected by seven county offices in 1959 hit $20,033,026, compared with $15,733,688 in 1958.
The 1959 Legislature passed the fee raise enabling law. Because of the higher fee collections, Rhodes estimated that county governments would get an extra eight million dollars for the full year of 1960.

They think that many of the most primitive natives expect to take over the white man's world completely and literally on Independence Day, June 30. Take over, not only his government, but also his home, his car, even his wife. There have been incidents but for every actual incident, 100 are imagined. True, false or medium, the result is the same in this country, where black men outnumber whites 130-1. The Belgians are scared.

They have been flying out by the thousands. Airlines are jammed. In rural areas, many plantation owners, copper mining officials, missionaries and trading post managers are planning to send their wives and children to towns for protection.

In the cities, many white homes now have guns. Business is dead. Few consumers and retailers are buying more than they absolutely need.

The white community (normally about 100,000 compared to 13 million Africans) waits tensely and the rumors multiply. Is there any substance to the reports? Apparently there is, according to missionaries, Belgian officials and people I talked with at the American and British consulates. While there has been much semi-hysterical exaggeration, they said, this kind of thing has occurred.

African men (no one can say how many) have approached white women and said, in effect, they were taking title to them after June 30. Natives in a northern village have laid out many empty boxes, crates, tubs at a cemetery, thinking that with independence they will be filled with the white man's clothes, food, goods. Somehow, they associate the dead with the coming miracle.

A man coming out of a barber shop in Leopoldville saw several natives eying his car possessively. Why? "It will be ours after June 30," said the owner. "I suppose you think you'll get my house too?" Said the natives: "oh yes sir."

There are many rumors of African blacklists: After June 30, the bad whites will have to go, only the good ones can remain. Trying to nail this last type of rumor down is like trying to nail gelatine to the wall. But true or not, many Belgians now treat their houseboys more carefully. Many people don't know what to believe. This much is fact. Some of the lesser African politicians, or jungle precinct captains, have led their primitive constituents to believe they will take over the white man's possessions June 30. The top African leaders have tried to spike these notions, but it's doubtful if the speeches can catch up with the rumors among wishful thinking natives in the remote villages unreachable by radio or newspapers. This uncertainty is the harvest of haste as the Congo, one third the size of the United States, races toward freedom from Belgium.

DiSalle Urges War Against Ragweed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—That ragweed popping up all over the place is creating a serious problem for many persons, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has pointed out in a proclamation. Ragweed pollen bring misery to hay fever and asthma sufferers, the proclamation explains, and asthma can result even in death. In signing the document, which makes this "Ragweed Control Month," the governor urged Ohioans to get rid of Ragweed growing near their homes. The proclamation notes that it is more effective to get at the cause of hay fever and asthma than to treat sufferers.

Labor Party Has a Problem

Leaders of the Labor Party in England are beginning to suspect they have a tiger by the tail on the ban-the-bomb issue. The trade unions which for a backbone segment ditch the hydrogen bomb no matter what of the party favor unilateral renunciation of the bomb. And because the opposition their hands tied to the extent of having to and its safety. And they don't want to have Conservatives do not, this is a natural political issue.

The problem is that the leader of the Labor Party, Hugh Gaitskell, and his colleagues hope that some day they may again be entrusted with the country's government the international situation.

Tailfins on Down Swing

Latest intelligence from Detroit is a news tip that tailfins are on the way out. The change will not be immediate, however.

Auto makers will begin with 1961 models, reducing the size of the posterior protruberances. With the 1962s the fins will shrink to mere bulges. By 1963 the car with the tailfin will be old hat.

If this prediction is borne out, a major American sociological mark is going into

But momentum for the bomb-ban idea seems to be gaining within their party. Gaitskell and other leaders are said to fear it may turn into an avalanche which they'll have to go along with or lose their party posts.

Summer Tough on Middle Aged

NEW YORK (AP)—It takes a lot of ingenuity to survive summer in middle age.

When you're a barefoot boy with cheeks of tan, summer is a golden time in a golden prime, ripe with promise and full of childhood ecstasies.

School is out, woodlands beckon and there's the fresh thrill of scuffling newly-freed toes in the dust, of dropping a squirming worm into a pebbly brook and catching something—even though it isn't much larger than a sardine.

But in middle age summer is a season that has its perils as well as its performances.

If one could lie at ease on a cot in a shady yard and let the mellow warmth thaw his rheumatism, all would be well. Summer would be a perfect blessing.

This is hardly possible, however, because of the "summer

the discard. The huge tailfin has been the object of scorn by intellectuals who have bought lock - stock - and - barrel the idea that the American economy is decadent because it stresses private pleasures instead of public obligations.

If Detroit is succumbing to the sociologists' criticism, the eggheads will have to look elsewhere for a symbol of the materialism they decry.

Another Propaganda Effort

Out of Red China comes a magazine, "Evergreen." "A Magazine of Chinese Youth and Students," to tell the world of the wonders of Communist China. It is an interesting publication which leaves little to the imagination.

On the subject of the relations of Soviet Russia and Red China, Hu Yao-pang, First Secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist Youth League of China, wrote:

"During the past ten years all enemies who are hostile to our common cause have resorted to all possible means to create differences between our two peoples, in a fantastic attempt to weaken and undermine our great alliance. But all their efforts have come to naught. They will never achieve their aims, because our alliance and friendship is based on the principles of Marxism-Leninism and the great ideal of communism. This alliance and friendship is everlasting and unbreakable and nobody can ever split it."

"Evergreen" is frankly propagandistic, aimed at the Asiatic and African nations which employ English as a second language. It is clear that Red China seeks to establish itself as the leader of the Asiatic and African nations. Only since the Bandung Conference (1955) has any period in Chinese history been related to Africa. There is no record, ancient or modern, when China conformed itself with Africa or had any intercourse with African nations.

One of the parables emphasized in all issues of "Evergreen" is "The Big Leap." This is the story of the move to industrialize Communist China. In an article entitled "China's Students Gather for a Triumphant Leap," appears this:

"Chinese students are concerned not only with the destiny of their own nation; they always regard it as an important constant task to maintain the struggle against imperialism and colonialism, and also to strengthen their ties of friendship and cooperation with the students of other countries. We firmly support the Asian, African and Latin American peoples in their just struggle against imperialism and colonialism and for the achievement and defence of national independence. We spare no efforts in building friendly relations and cooperation with the students of all lands. The world situation today is excellent for our struggles. The East wind has prevailed and will continue to prevail over the West wind."

In the April issue is an article entitled "We Firmly Support the Struggle of Latin American Youth Against U.S. Imperialism," by Chien Li-jen, Council Member of China-Latin America Friendship Association and Secretary General of All-China Youth Federation. A cartoon shows an enormous fist with the slogan, "Yankee Go Home!" A smaller fist bears the slogan: "Ike Go Home!" The article says:

"The victory of the Cuban people's revolution was a most inspiring historical event in the national and democratic movement of Latin America. During the past year and more, the heroic Cuban youth alongside their people have time and again smashed the U.S. imperialists' provocations and aggressive schemes.

In face of the frenzied threats and barbarous outrages committed by U. S. imperialism, the people and youth of Cuba have displayed a dauntless spirit against the enemy. Closely united, they are determined to defend their revolution unswervingly. Their heroic struggles have dealt a telling blow to U. S. imperialism and inspired the fighting will of the peoples and youth of Latin American countries. Throughout the whole Latin American continent, from Argentina's Tierra del Fuego to the Caribbean Sea, there has risen a tornado that has turned the so-called 'strategic rear' of the United States into the front line of the struggle against U.S. imperialism."

There is also an article on "Japan's Youth Firmly Oppose Japan-U.S. Military Alliance." It is an attack on Prime Minister Kishi of Japan and on the United States. In this article appeared this:

"The struggle of the Japanese people and youth against the Japan-U.S. 'Security Treaty' has enabled and increasing number of people to see even more clearly that only by waging an unyielding and resolute struggle against the U.S. and Japanese reactionaries' machinations of aggression and war can Japan take the road of peace, independence, democracy and neutrality..."

"Evergreen" gives the key to much of Red China's policy. It is interesting to note that a large sector of the world Communist propaganda effort has been transferred from the Kremlin to Peking. Not only the people of Southeast Asia are in the Chinese orbit, but also of Africa and Latin America.

LAFF-A-DAY

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A BEARDED BEATNIK occupied a one-room flat in a cold-water apartment whose furniture consisted solely of a rickety bed and one chair. A visitor appeared one evening and discovered two old magazines on the floor. "So," she sneered, "you hired a decorator!"

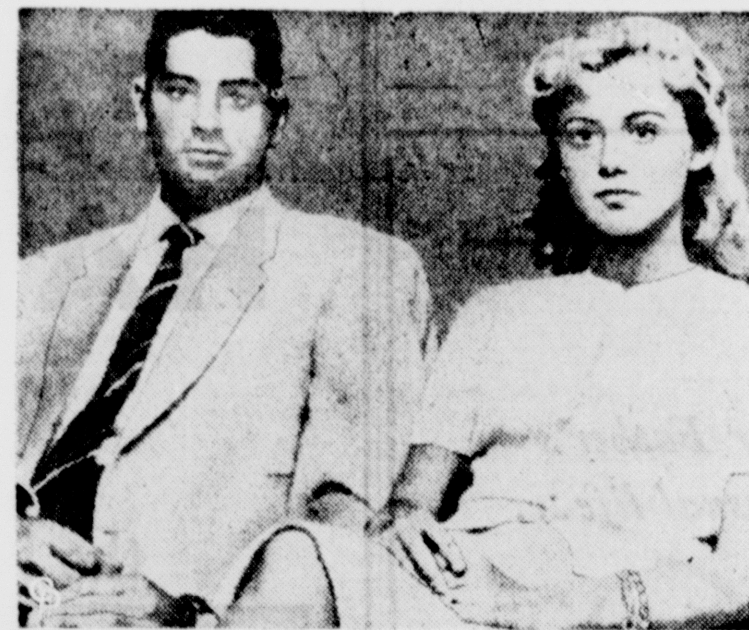

Disneyland hotel received a phone call from an ebullient Texan, who declared he was headed in that direction with a few friends and would require 14 double rooms. He added that he was traveling by car.

"How," demanded the clerk, "can you transport 14 rooms full of people by car?"

"Son," explained the Texan, "it's a railroad car."

Milk Aids Ulcer Fight

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Ulcer pills and tablets certainly have their place in the treatment of peptic ulcer attacks. But so does a simple glass of milk.

And fortunately, most persons with active ulcers usually have a craving for milk.

If your ulcer is acting up, I suggest that you keep a glass of milk handy during the night. You might even want to place it beside your bed.

A single glass of milk may help to relieve the symptoms of any ulcer attack occurring during the night.

Milk, you see, tends to neutralize the free hydrochloric acid in your stomach. And this is the acid which causes the trouble by irritating your ulcer.

An ulcer is like a clean - cut or pinched - out hole in the lining of the stomach or duodenum. The duodenum is the first part of the small intestine.

Whether you have an ulcer or not your stomach secretes certain substances, including hydrochloric acid to help the body digest food.

Secretion of the acid is increased, naturally, when you eat, but it generally stops when the food has left the stomach.

We believe that this gastric juice must be increased in excessive amounts before peptic ulcers can form. If the excess secretion is eliminated, the ulcer will heal.

Stress also tends to accelerate gastric function. That's why we always advise peptic ulcer patients to avoid worrying at all costs. Especially, don't worry about your ulcer. That will only make it worse.

To combat this excessive secretion of corrosive acid, we often prescribe frequent, even hourly, feedings of milk for ulcer patients. Cream and egg yolks are good, too, since the fats they contain tend to decrease the acid secretion.

It goes without saying that anyone with an ulcer must avoid foods containing a lot of indigestible roughage which might irritate the ulcer.

Question and Answer

G. O.: How long would it be necessary for a person to remain away from his normal work after having a hydroeclectomy?

Answer: Usually about two to four weeks, but lifting of heavy weights and straining should be avoided for about six months.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wice in a row, with no one in sight likely to take the Republican nomination away from him, Vice President Richard M. Nixon got jabbed with a red-hot needle. Both times he stayed quiet 24 hours.

Both times this happened to be just long enough to let the Republican leaders in Congress rush to his defense against the needles — as they did — before he did any talking.

The first time it was Harold Stassen who jabbed him, just when Nixon seemed to have the Republican vice presidential nomination sewed up in 1956. Now it's New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, just when Nixon seems to have the presidential nomination cinched, although Rockefeller would like to get it.

Rockefeller said it was about time Nixon started saying precisely where he stands on the big issues. Nixon replied that he not only has talked on them but has been more precise than Rockefeller.

The fact is: Neither has been completely precise at all. Few seekers of political office ever are.

It was only July 23, just a few weeks before the 1956 Republican convention, that Stassen started his dump-Nixon campaign, arguing Nixon would lose the party votes. Stassen suggested Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts for the vice presidential nomination.

Republicans in Congress, with visions of Stassen splitting the party, rallied around Nixon. Herter didn't have a chance. In fact, he said he not only didn't want the nomination but would nominate Nixon himself.

Nixon came out of silence then. He didn't waste any time on Stassen. He just praised Herter. But he reacted far more energetically to Rockefeller.

Rockefeller, who got out of the Republican presidential race last December and jumped back in May, fired his blast at Nixon on Wednesday. The Republicans in Congress closed ranks around Nixon.

Then Nixon went to New Jersey Thursday and at a news conference said he had talked on the issues and had been more precise than Rockefeller. He challenged the governor to a "discussion in depth," perhaps before television cameras. Rockefeller said Nixon "doesn't need me to interrogate him on television."

What follows is a run-down on the positions Rockefeller took on the issues in his Wednesday attack against Nixon and the vice president's statements in the past on those same problems.

National Defense: Rockefeller says defense is not good enough, suggests spending 3½ billion dollars more right away. Nixon says defenses are just fine but this country must spend whatever it costs to retain its strength.

Foreign Policy: Rockefeller did not say much more than that we are losing ground and must do something about it. Nixon doesn't concede any losses but he hasn't been any more specific than Rockefeller in this field.

Arms Control: everybody seems to be for this, including Rockefeller and Nixon.

National Economy: Rockefeller calls for tax changes to encourage investments. Nixon said Thursday he has urged tax revisions, too, and then some.

Farm Problems: Rockefeller is doing something about them. Nixon says he is, too, but he has indicated before he wouldn't have a new farm program of his own until after he gets the presidential nomination.

Labor: Rockefeller is for compulsory arbitration, if necessary, to end big, damaging strikes. Nixon is against compulsory control. But how he'd cope with such a problem isn't clear at all.

Civil Rights: Rockefeller says he is all for racial equality but vague on how to achieve it. Nixon is for protecting civil rights but hasn't gone beyond the Eisenhower program, only part of which got accepted this year by Congress.

Federal Aid to Education: Rockefeller is for federal aid for school construction and for scholarships. Nixon is for federal aid to school construction.

Medical Help for the Aged: Rockefeller is for a medical program paid for through Social Security taxes. Nixon is against this way of paying the cost, but is supporting a federal-state sharing of part of the cost of voluntary health insurance.

Both men have a long way to go before they spell out in complete detail just where they stand on the issues. Nixon, for instance, has said he will stand on the Eisenhower administration's record but he will build on it.

He also says he differs with the administration on some major policies but won't spell them out until after he is nominated.

Solons Place Secret Order For Swim Pool

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune said today it has learned that senators have secretly ordered a 20-by-20 foot swimming pool for the basement of the old Senate Office Building on Capitol Hill in Washington.

A Washington dispatch to the newspaper added that plans for the white tile pool are already on the drawing boards of the Capitol architect.

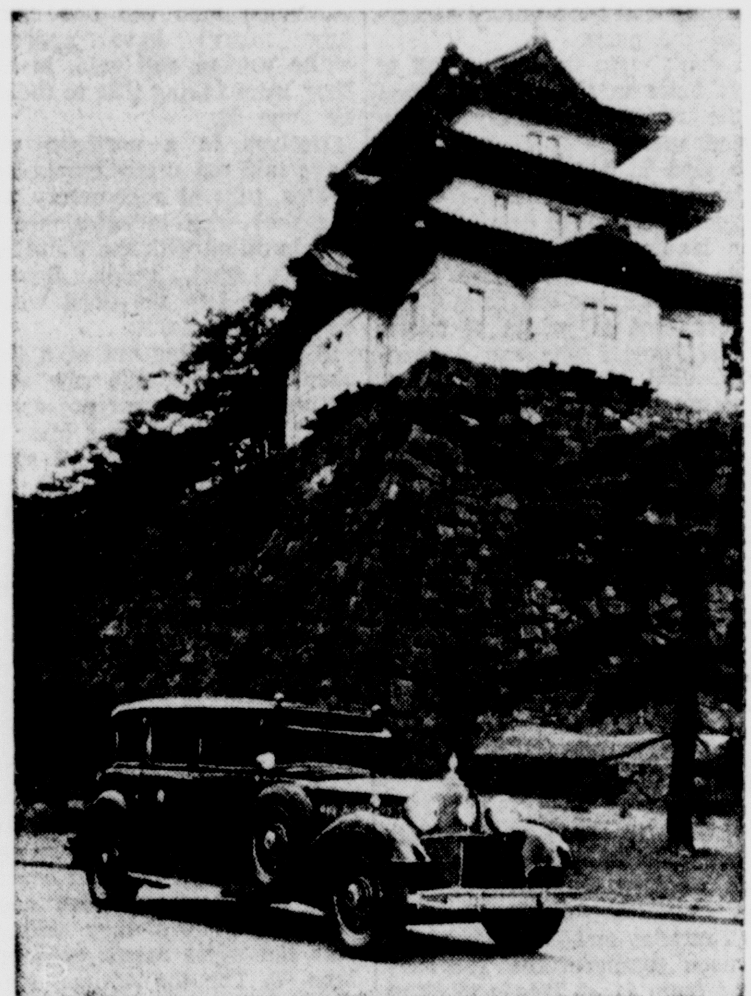

The story also said in part: Construction, expected to start soon, is to be paid for out of $100,000 remaining in an appropriation voted in 1958 to remodel "rusty plumbing" in the office building.

The pool is to be constructed in the private senatorial "health suite" out of public view under a stairway on the ground floor of the building. The "health suite" already contains an 8-by-12 foot pool and private dressing rooms "worthy of the baths of ancient Rome."

The new pool would be hidden in more ways than one. A search of available records failed to turn up any report, hearing or legislation mentioning the pool. Its senatorial sponsors apparently hoped to build the project without anybody knowing it.

The Senate Office Building Commission, of which Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) is chairman, gave the pool the green light at a closed meeting 10 days ago.

No one would give the estimated cost of the pool.

Judge's Wife Serves As 'Juror' in Hearing

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — The Richmond family had a hand as Judge and jury in the award of $10,000 damages to Edward G. Welch for injuries he received in an automobile accident. Judge Harold J. James Monroe became fifth President of the United States in 1817. He was re-elected in 1820.

Labor Party Has a Problem

Leaders of the Labor Party in England are beginning to suspect they have a tiger by the tail on the bomb-ban issue. The trade unions which for a backbone segment ditch the hydrogen bomb no matter what of the party favor unilateral renunciation of the bomb. And because the opposition their hands tied to the extent of having to and its safety. And they don't want to have Conservatives do not, this is a natural political issue.

The problem is that the leader of the Labor Party, Hugh Gaitskell, and his colleagues hope that some day they may again be entrusted with the country's government the international situation.

Tailfins on Down Swing

Latest intelligence from Detroit is a news tip that tailfins are on the way out. The change will not be immediate, however.

Auto makers will begin with 1961 models, reducing the size of posterior protuberances. With the 1962s the fins will shrink to mere bulges. By 1963 the car with the tailfin will be old hat.

If this prediction is borne out, a major American sociological mark is going into the discard. The huge tailfin has been the object of scorn by intellectuals who have bought lock - stock - and - barrel the idea that the American economy is decadent because it stresses private pleasures instead of public obligations.

If Detroit is succumbing to the sociologists' criticism, the eggheads will have to look elsewhere for a symbol of the materialism they decry.

Summer Tough on Middle Aged

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—It takes a lot of ingenuity to survive summer—in middle age.

When you're a barefoot boy with cheeks of tan, summer is a golden time in a golden prime, ripe with promise and full of childhood ecstasies.

School is out, woodlands beckon and there's the fresh thrill of scuffling newly-freed toes in the dust, of dropping a squirming worm into a pebbly brook and catching something—even though it isn't much larger than a sardine.

But in middle age summer is a season that has its perils as well as its performances.

If one could lie at ease on a cot in a shady yard and let the mellow warmth thaw his rheumatism, all would be well. Summer would be a perfect blessing.

This is hardly possible, however, because of the "summer athlete." The summer athlete is an oversized middle-aged kid who never quite grew up—a perennial boy scout.

Summer isn't for him a time of rest and relaxation while drowsily listening to the murmuring bees. With him it's a time to be up and doing, a time to get red-faced and sweaty.

This nature's boy is a mixture of Tarzan of the apes, Marco Polo, Daniel Boone and an Olympic decathlon performer. No community is complete without at least one of these summer athletes—and no community is happy with one.

"Let's go on a hike!" he bleats. And if you are foolish enough to join him, the next thing you know he has tossed a rock at a wasp nest and you are all running for your lives.

Summer isn't summer to him unless he can wear out himself, and everyone else within sound

Another Propaganda Effort

By George Sokolsky

Out of Red China comes a magazine, "Evergreen." A Magazine of Chinese Youth and Students, to tell the world of the wonders of Communist China. It is an interesting publication which leaves little to the imagination.

On the subject of the relations of Soviet Russia, and Red China, Ha Yao-pang, First Secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist Youth League of China, wrote:

"During the past ten years all enemies who are hostile to our common cause have resorted to all possible means to create differences between our two peoples, in a fantastic attempt to weaken and undermine our great alliance. But all their efforts have come to naught. They will never achieve their aims, because our alliance and friendship is based on the principles of Marxism-Leninism and the great ideal of communism. This alliance and friendship is everlasting and unbreakable and nobody can ever split it."

"Evergreen" is frankly propagandistic, aimed at the Asiatic and African nations which employ English as a second language. It is clear that Red China seeks to establish itself as the leader of the Asiatic and African nations. Only since the Bandung Conference (1955) has any period in Chinese history been related to Africa. There is no record, ancient or modern, when China concerned itself with Africa or had any intercourse with African nations.

One of the phrases emphasized in all issues of "Evergreen" is "The Big Leap." This is the story of the move to industrialize Communist China. In an article entitled "China's Students Gather for a Triumphant Leap," appears this:

"Chinese students are concerned not only with the destiny of their own nation; they always regard it as an important constant task to maintain the struggle against imperialism and colonialism and in defence of world peace, and also to strengthen their ties of friendship and co-operation with the students of other countries. We firmly support the Asian, African and Latin American peoples in their just struggle against imperialism and colonialism and for the achievement and defence of national independence. We spare no efforts in building friendly relations and cooperation with the students of all lands. The world situation today is excellent for our struggles. The East wind has prevailed and will continue to prevail over the West wind..."

In the April issue is an article entitled, "We Firmly Support the Struggle of Latin American Youth Against U.S. Imperialism," by Chien Li-jen, Council Member of China-Latin America Friendship Association and Secretary General of All-China Youth Federation. A cartoon shows an enormous fist with the slogan, "Yankee Go Home!" A smaller fist bears the slogan: "Ike Go Home!" The article says:

"The victory of the Cuban people's revolution was a most inspiring historical event in the national and democratic movement of Latin America. During the past year and more, the heroic Cuban youth alongside their people have time and again smashed the U.S. imperialists' provocations and aggressive schemes.

In face of the frenzied threats and barbarous outrages committed by U.S. imperialism, the people and youth of Cuba have displayed a dauntless spirit against the enemy. Closely united, they are determined to defend their revolution unswervingly. Their heroic struggles have dealt a telling blow to U.S. imperialism and inspired the fighting will of the peoples and youth of Latin American countries. Throughout the whole Latin American continent, from Argentina's Tierra del Fuego to the Caribbean Sea, there has risen a tornado that has turned the so-called 'strategic rear' of the United States into the front line of the struggle against U.S. imperialism."

There is also an article on "Japan's Youth Firmly Oppose Japan-U.S. Military Alliance." It is an attack on Prime Minister Kishi of Japan and on the United States. In this article appeared this:

"The struggle of the Japanese people and youth against the Japan-U.S. 'Security Treaty' has enabled and increasing number of people to see even more clearly that only by waging an unyielding and resolute struggle against the U.S. and Japanese reactionaries' machinations of aggression and war can Japan take the road of peace, independence, democracy and neutrality."

"Evergreen" gives the key to much of Red China's policy. It is interesting to note that a large sector of the world Communist propaganda effort has been transferred from the Kremlin to Peking. Not only the people of Southeast Asia are in the Chinese orbit, but also of Africa and Latin America.

U.S. Business Reports Today Are Pleasant

Statistics Add Up To Healthy Outlook For Weeks Ahead

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen have had a fair share of sobering reports and statistics to swallow in the last two months. But today they have some pleasant ones for a change.

And they add up to a fairly healthy outlook for the weeks ahead. The new and more pleasant reports are:

1. The best rally in the stock market for some time — and sparked by investors turning to the more seasoned stocks of the old-line and stable industries.

2. Evidence that the business slowdown has had but little effect on long-range business planning for plant and equipment spending.

3. Continuing spending by consumers without either a spurge set off by inflation fears or a purse tightening prompted by recession doubts.

4. A strong revival in U. S. exports after two years of world trade problems that could have threatened the dollar's position.

This export surplus pleases both the countless companies that sell abroad and the nation's money managers who have been disturbed by the loss of gold due to a two-year deficit in our balance payments.

In the first four months of the year our merchandise exports ran 22 per cent ahead of the like 1959 period. Imports went up by only 6 per cent, in contrast to their steeper climb a year ago.

The change has given this country a surplus of exports over imports so far this year of 14 billion dollars, more than three times that of a year ago. The big surplus is needed to offset the other U. S. payments abroad other than for imports—that is, for foreign aid, for travel, for maintaining military bases, for private investments.

As a booster for the economy at home, the government still counts heavily on business capital spending. At the first of the year the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Department of Commerce estimated such spending as reaching 37 billion dollars.

Since then the slide in total industrial output, and the trend of customers to hold down inventories rather than build them up, have put a damper on some business expansion plans. But not much of one.

The pleasant pronouncements also extend to one of the industries hit by the spring slowdown. Roger M. Blough, chairman of U. S. Steel, thinks steel outputs won't fall much lower than at present and will turn up again in August.

Wholesale Beer Regulation Altered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—New regulations limiting the sale of beer at wholesale prices to individuals will go into effect July 1.

The Ohio Board of Liquor Control adopted two regulations applying to such sales by distributors and breweries at a hearing Wednesday.

The regulations state that holders of A- distributor permits and B-1 brewery permits can sell to individuals during any quarter of a year no more than 20 per cent of the permit holders' gross vol-ume.

Five representatives of breweries and distributors appeared at the hearing in support of the regulations. Three spokesmen for carry-out interests opposed their adoption.

Previously there has been no limit on wholesale sales to individuals.

Ashville Mayor, Council Split over Wage Increase

Ashville Council and village Mayor Richard Bozman split Monday over the proposed 12½ cent wage-rate increase for village employees.

The wage-rate increase passed its first reading. Then the rules governing the reading of ordinances were suspended. The second and third readings were held simultaneously and the ordinance passed unanimously, to go into effect as soon as allowed by law.

Mayor Bozman expressed his dissatisfaction of the rate increase. He stated he believed the ordinance should have been studied more and said he would not sign the bill until it had been reviewed further.

Bozman said if village mayors had veto powers he would have used it. This is only the second time in four years that Bozman has indicated he would use the veto power if he had it.

COUNCILMAN Chester Gloyd let it be known that he would go along with the increase in wages, but future increases were questionable.

Bozman instructed assistant clerk, George Forquer, to invite a Mr. Gill, an engineer for the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., to appear before Council on behalf of his firm to discuss use of C&SO poles for street lighting purposes plus talk of a transformer.

Steve Cook, water superintendent, reported that a survey for curbs and gutters has been completed and the grade set.

The area surveyed is bounded on the west by the alley north of the Judge Guy G. Cline residence; east by Harrison St. to Powell St.; south by Powell St. to Cherry St.; and west by Cherry St. to the alley just east of the Ashville Fire House. The survey was requested by property owners of the area.

Marvin Gamble of Chillicothe, trash, garbage and refuse collector in Ashville, reported on a survey he conducted throughout the village except on a portion of Main St.

He said that the survey indicated the complete and favorable satisfaction of the job he and his employees were doing in the village.

Mrs. America Tests Yield More Awards

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Alaska and Mrs. Tennessee were named today as final winners in two homemaking categories of the Mrs. America Contest.

Mrs. Alaska, Marilyn Porter of Ketchikan, prepared the best casserole dish and Mrs. Tennessee, Helen Waters of Nashville, fixed the best frozen dessert.

Winners of some other events were to be announced later today.

Winners receive trophies for excellence in each event. Finalists are chosen on a combined basis of homemaking, poise and personality.

The red and white flag of the District of Columbia was flown today for Mrs. D.C., Dolores Crumpler of Kensington, Md., after she complained that all the other entrants had state flags to inspire them in competition.

Wednesday's homemaking event winners were Mrs. Maryland (Virginia Lee Moore), Mrs. Idaho (Clea Bennett), Mrs. New York (Lenore Siegle), Mrs. Tennessee (Helen Waters), Mrs. Hawaii (Claire Johnson) and Mrs. Indiana (Rosemary Murphy).

HE SAID if granted the exclusive to collect refuse in Ashville, he would pick the trash at the village park free, plus the trash of all the churches, provided it was placed in an accessible area to his vehicles.

But he warned Ashville residents that if this went into effect, they were not to abuse this privilege by placing their own trash in these areas.

He repeated that he would collect the refuse twice a week with no increase in price. Council decided that the best solution to the refuse collection problem and Gamble's proposal would be to place the matter before the village voters in the fall general election.

Council suggested that Gamble circulate a petition to obtain enough signatures to place the issue on the ballot.

The village governing board authorized the Fire Department to purchase a two-beam, 360 degree safety coverage beacon light not to exceed $75.

It permitted the Fire Department to send one representative to the Ohio State Firemen's Convention in Cleveland. Council will pay the agent's expenses up to $50.

THE abandonment of several village alleys was discussed, but no definite action was taken. Action is being considered because there are several alleys slightly used and the maintenance costs are expensive.

Council asked Street Commissioner Claude Ward to survey village alleys and report his findings as to what alleys to abandon at the next meeting.

Assistant Fire Chief Donald Thompson displayed the new firemen's coats manufactured by Morningpride Manufacturing Co., Dayton.

Council authorized the purchase of five coats at $21 each and one white helmet for Chief Edward Cummins for $12 with the understanding that the chief's badge would be furnished by Thompson at no cost to the village.

Bozman instructed Ward to try a test pattern of sand on a street. He is to use Sturm & Dillard No. 9 sand and another sample of Marble cliff No. 9 sand. Purpose of the test is to determine the best combination for street paving.

Ravenna To Test New Traffic Ticket

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—This city has been picked as a test area to introduce a new traffic ticket system proposed by a special committee of the Ohio Bar Association. The plan will start early next month, according to Municipal Judge James France.

The ticket, which the bar association hopes some day will bring a standardized procedure to the state, has four copies. One is the traffic citation to the offender, another becomes a court report, the third is sent to the state motor vehicle bureau, and the remaining copy is the affidavit.

Eleven offenses are listed on the traffic ticket. The association feels it will enable authorities to eliminate separate filing of traffic reports.

Sesquicentennial . . . A Look at the Past

Thursday at 8 p. m. is an important date for all Pickaway Countians who are interested in the permanent preservation of local history.

The County Historical Society will meet in the County Common Pleas Courtroom Thursday to discuss the possibilities of establishing a combined museum and club meeting place.

Harford Renick, President of the Historical Society, in a letter to all charter members, urges their attendance and assistance.

"We can have our Museum-Meeting place in operation by September if you will help", Renick said in the letter. "The men and women who have been working on the museum project believe that it represents an opportunity which may not soon be duplicated. In preparation for the meeting, we urgently need new members to help carry on the plans which may be proposed."

"WE KNOW that there are literally hundreds of people, whose roots are in this county, who would like to be a part of the Historical Society if someone cared enough to enlist their support," he stated.

Renick also urges everyone to "proffer your services in any activity of the Historical Society or the Sesquicentennial Celebration which is of interest to them."

"You may have only a few hours or days free to give, but if each of us gives that little bit of time which represents our share of the responsibility, all our plans for the preservation of our county history will be successful," he concluded.

U.S. Business Reports Today Are Pleasant

Statistics Add Up To Healthy Outlook For Weeks Ahead

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen have had a fair share of sobering reports and statistics to swallow in the last two months. But today they have some pleasant ones for a change.

And they add up to a fairly healthy outlook for the weeks ahead. The new and more pleasant reports are:

1. The best rally in the stock market for some time — and sparked by investors turning to the more seasoned stocks of the old-line and stable industries.

2. Evidence that the business slowdown has had but little effect on long-range business planning for plant and equipment spending.

3. Continuing spending by consumers without either a spurge set off by inflation fears or a purse tightening prompted by recession doubts.

4. A strong revival in U. S. exports after two years of world trade problems that could have threatened the dollar's position.

This export surplus pleases both the countless companies that sell abroad and the nation's money managers who have been disturbed by the loss of gold due to a two-year deficit in our balance payments.

In the first four months of the year our merchandise exports ran 22 per cent ahead of the like 1959 period. Imports went up by only 6 per cent, in contrast to their steeper climb a year ago.

The change has given this country a surplus of exports over imports so far this year of 14 billion dollars, more than three times that of a year ago. The big surplus is needed to offset the other U. S. payments abroad other than for imports—that is, for foreign aid, for travel, for maintaining military bases, for private investments.

As a booster for the economy at home, the government still counts heavily on business capital spending. At the first of the year the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Department of Commerce estimated such spending as reaching 37 billion dollars.

Since then the slide in total industrial output, and the trend of customers to hold down inventories rather than build them up, have put a damper on some business expansion plans. But not much of one.

The pleasant pronouncements also extend to one of the industries hit by the spring slowdown. Roger M. Blough, chairman of U. S. Steel, thinks steel outputs won't fall much lower than at present and will turn up again in August.

Wholesale Beer Regulation Altered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—New regulations limiting the sale of beer at wholesale prices to individuals will go into effect July 1.

The Ohio Board of Liquor Control adopted two regulations applying to such sales by distributors and breweries at a hearing Wednesday.

The regulations state that holders of A- distributor permits and B-1 brewery permits can sell to individuals during any quarter of a year no more than 20 per cent of the permit holders' gross volume.

Five representatives of breweries and distributors appeared at the hearing in support of the regulations. Three spokesmen for carry-out interests opposed their adoption.

Previously there has been no limit on wholesale sales to individuals.

Ashville Mayor, Council Split over Wage Increase

Ashville Council and village Mayor Richard Bozman split Monday over the proposed 12½ cent wage-rate increase for village employees.

The wage-rate increase passed its first reading. Then the rules governing the reading of ordinances were suspended. The second and third readings were held simultaneously and the ordinance passed unanimously, to go into effect as soon as allowed by law.

Mayor Bozman expressed his dissatisfaction of the rate increase. He stated he believed the ordinance should have been studied more and said he would not sign the bill until it had been reviewed further.

Bozman said if village mayors had veto powers he would have used it. This is only the second time in four years that Bozman has indicated he would use the veto power if he had it.

COUNCILMAN Chester Gloyd let it be known that he would go along with the increase in wages, but future increases were questionable.

Bozman instructed assistant clerk, George Forquer, to invite a Mr. Gill, an engineer for the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., to appear before Council on behalf of his firm to discuss use of C&SO poles for street lighting purposes plus talk of a transformer.

Steve Cook, water superintendent, reported that a survey for curbs and gutters has been completed and the grade set.

The area surveyed is bounded on the west by the alley north of the Judge Guy G. Cline residence; east by Harrison St. to Powell St.; south by Powell St. to Cherry St., and west by Cherry St. to the alley just east of the Ashville Fire House. The survey was requested by property owners of the area.

Marvin Gamble of Chillicothe, trash, garbage and refuse collector in Ashville, reported on a survey he conducted throughout the village except on a portion of Main St.

He said that the survey indicated the complete and favorable satisfaction of the job he and his employees were doing in the village.

Mrs. America Tests Yield More Awards

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Alaska and Mrs. Tennessee were named today as final winners in two homemaking categories of the Mrs. America Contest.

Winners of some other events were to be announced later today.

Winners receive trophies for excellence in each event. Finalists are chosen on a combined basis of homemaking, poise and personality.

The red and white flag of the District of Columbia was flown today for Mrs. D.C., Dolores Crumpler of Kensington, Md., after she complained that all the other entrants had state flags to inspire them in competition.

Wednesday's homemaking event winners were Mrs. Maryland (Virginia Lee Moore), Mrs. Idaho (Clea Bennett), Mrs. New York (Lenore Siegle), Mrs. Tennessee (Helen Waters), Mrs. Hawaii (Claire Johnson) and Mrs. Indiana (Rosemary Murphy).

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

This Question Very Sound

DEAR ABBY: I have been teaching Physics for 33 years and not only was your reply to "Dick" a pip, but it would have made Professor Einstein turn over in his grave.

"If a plane crashed in the desert and no living thing heard it was a sound made?" Dick asked.

To this question, which has baffled philosophers and scientists for generations, you blithely replied, "Yes", without even batting an eyelash.

"Sound"—according to the physiological definition—"requires a receiver". Without it there is no "sound". Truly yours,

"Doc" (Cambridge, Mass.)

DEAR ABBY: I was surprised to read that "Dick" was having trouble with the question of sounds being reproduced by a plane crash in the desert. I asked this same question in my high school science class 20 years ago, and was soundly squelched by my teacher. This was before anybody would believe that matter and energy were convertible.

Good for Dick for raising the question and good for you for backing him up. I wouldn't have believed this old chestnut was still kicking around.

S. S. F., SAN FRANCISCO

DEAR ABBY: The argument about whether there was a "sound" made if no one was around to hear it can easily be solved by using the proper word. What Dick wanted to know was NOT whether a SOUND was made ("sound" needs someone to hear it, in order to be termed "sound"). Dick meant was a "NOISE" made? Yes, you were right. A noise WAS made. So call it a "noise" instead of a "sound" and settle it!

TEACHER, Amarillo, Texas

DEAR ABBY: May I be the thousandth person to tell you that the question about "sound" has no answer?

If Dick couldn't find the answer in his physics book, written by experts who have spent their lives studying sound, vibrations and transmissions, I don't know why on earth the poor kid thought he could get the answer by writing to you. Why didn't you just say you didn't know?

A. L., Washington, D.C.

DEAR ABBY: You were wrong when you supported the student who said that whether anyone was around to hear a sound or not, it still was a sound. I will not attempt to explain this phenomenon as I barely understand it myself, but I know I am right.

O. F. (Yuma)

DEAR ABBY: I thought everybody knew that sound required three things: (1) An object to give off vibrations, or "noises". (2) A medium to transmit these vibrations, or "hearing" these vibrations. By definition, then, a plane crashing in the desert with no living thing around to hear it, does NOT cause "sound".

W. W. H., Ellsworth, Maine

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

This Question Very Sound

DEAR ABBY: I have been teaching Physics for 33 years and not only was your reply to "Dick" a pip, but it would have made Professor Einstein turn over in his grave.

"If a plane crashed in the desert and no living thing heard it was a sound made?" Dick asked.

To this question, which has baffled philosophers and scientists for generations, you blithely replied, "Yes", without even batting an eyelash.

"Sound"—according to the physiological definition—"requires a receiver". Without it there is no "sound". Truly yours,

"Doc" (Cambridge, Mass.)

DEAR ABBY: I was surprised to read that "Dick" was having trouble with the question of sounds being reproduced by a plane crash in the desert. I asked this same question in my high school science class 20 years ago, and was soundly squelched by my teacher. This was before anybody would believe that matter and energy were convertible.

Good for Dick for raising the question and good for you for

The Two Ways

THE TRAGIC RESULTS OF DIRECTING ONE'S LIFE
THE WRONG WAY AND THE HOPE STILL
AVAILABLE FOR THOSE WHO REPENT

Scripture—Matthew 7:13-14; Luke 15:11-24.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
TODAY'S LESSON is a parable Jesus told in His Sermon on the Mount. It is probably one of the best known of all these sayings. It is called The Parable of the Prodigal Son, although the word prodigal is not mentioned in the Bible account.
According to the dictionary,
a prodigal is one who is "extravagant in expenditure, lavish, wasteful; a spendthrift; one
who is lavish or wasteful."

The subject of our lesson was such a one, but he saw the error of his ways and received forgiveness, as we do when we pray sincerely and fervently to
God our Father and Jesus Christ
our Lord.

"A certain man had two sons,
and the younger of them said
to his father, Father, give me
the portion of goods that falleth
to me. And he divided unto and thought of his father, whose hired servant always had enough to eat and to spare.

Then he said, "I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee, and am no more worthy to be called thy son; make me as one of thy hired servants."—Luke 15:17-19.

So he went home. His father, seeing him coming, ran to meet him and "fell on his neck, and kissed him." The son confessed his faults and his father had him clothed in rich garments, put a ring on his finger and shoes on his feet.—Luke 15:20-21.

Then his father had a sumptuous feast prepared, saying
"Let us eat, and be merry: For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found."—Luke 15:23-24.

GOLDEN TEXT

"For thou, Lord, art good, and ready to forgive; and plenteous in mercy."—Psalm 86:5.

them his living."—Luke 15:11-12.

Shortly after this the younger son journeyed to a far city,
and there "wasted his substance
with riotous living" until he had no money left. Then a dreadful famine fell on the country, so
he "went and joined himself to a citizen of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine. And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine did eat;
and no man gave unto him."—
Luke 15:14-16.

We might think that his employer would have seen his plight and helped him, but he did not. Today, in our own country and many others, we are asked to contribute clothing and money to help poor people in our own land and in many others "come to himself."

At last he "came to himself."

Census Check

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati city officials are more convinced than ever that the Census Bureau made a mistake when it fixed the city's population at 487,666.

Results reported from an independent count of residents in 19 census tracts led to a request by City Council that the Census Bureau conduct a recount in 35 densely populated areas.

City officials have contended surveys and other statistics indicate the city's population should be well over half million. It was 503,998 in 1950.

The independent count was conducted by city employees and City Manager C. A. Harrell and his executive assistant, Howard Crush, told the Council that errors in the Census Bureau's count, amounting to 7.2 per cent, had been found in the 19 tracts.

Crush declared he did not believe the per centage of error would be that high in a total recount of the city but he expressed belief the regular census takers missed by more than three per cent, or 15,000 to 18,000 persons.

The Council also asked the Census Bureau to keep its Cincinnati district office and the city population records here until July 1. The office is scheduled to be closed next week and the record to be shipped to Jeffersonville, Ind.

The Two Ways

THE TRAGIC RESULTS OF DIRECTING ONE'S LIFE
THE WRONG WAY AND THE HOPE STILL
AVAILABLE FOR THOSE WHO REPENT

Scripture—Matthew 7:13-14; Luke 15:11-24.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
TODAY'S LESSON is a parable Jesus told in His Sermon on the Mount. It is probably one of the best known of all these sayings. It is called The Parable of the Prodigal Son, although the word prodigal is not mentioned in the Bible account.
According to the dictionary,
a prodigal is one who is "extravagant in expenditure, lavish, wasteful; a spendthrift; one
who is lavish or wasteful."
The subject of our lesson was such a one, but he saw the error of his ways and received forgiveness, as we do when we pray sincerely and fervently to
God our Father and Jesus Christ
our Lord.
"A certain man had two sons.
And the younger of them said
to his father, Father, give me
the portion of goods that falleth
to me. And he divided unto

12
Shortly after this the younger son journeyed to a far city,
and there "wasted his substance
with riotous living" until he had no money left. Then a dreadful famine fell on the country, so
he "went and joined himself to
a citizen of that country; and
he sent him into his fields to feed swine. And he would fain
have filled his belly with the
husks that the swine did eat;
and no man gave unto him."—
Luke 15:14-16.

We might think that his employer would have seen his
plight and helped him, but he did not. Today, in our own country and many others, we
are asked to contribute clothing and money to help poor people in our own land and in many others.

At last he "came to himself."

Nixon-Rock Feud Still Blowing Hot

 "This is the crux of the issue I have raised. The people, the Republican party and the delegates to the Republican convention are entitled to know what a 'new program' means. They have a right to know before, not after, the nomination of a candidate, precisely where he stands."

As the dispute between Rockefeller and Nixon continued, Democrats watched happily from the sidelines. Former President Harry S. Truman said:

"It shouldn't hurt us any. The more they fight the better satisfied I am."

Rockefeller touched off the first fireworks Wednesday in a lengthy statement which called on Nixon to spell out his views on top issues.

The governor listed his own views and was critical of parts of the Eisenhower administration's program.

Nixon held off a reply until Camden, N. J. noting that Rockefeller heads one of the largest delegations to the nominating convention, the vice president said:

"I would be willing to sit down with the head of any delegation and discuss all the issues. One way to resolve the issue is for the governor to meet with me and discuss all the issues in depth." He said that if Rockefeller wants to meet before the television cameras for such a discussion in depth "I am sure it can be arranged."

Before Rockefeller turned down the idea, Nixon accepted an invitation of the American Broadcasting Co. to appear on its radio and television network for a discussion with the governor.

Nixon, considered a shoo-in for the Republican presidential nomination, was asked at the news conference if he would accept Rockefeller as a running mate. Rockefeller has repeatedly said he would not accept the vice presidential nomination but has stated he would accept a presidential draft.

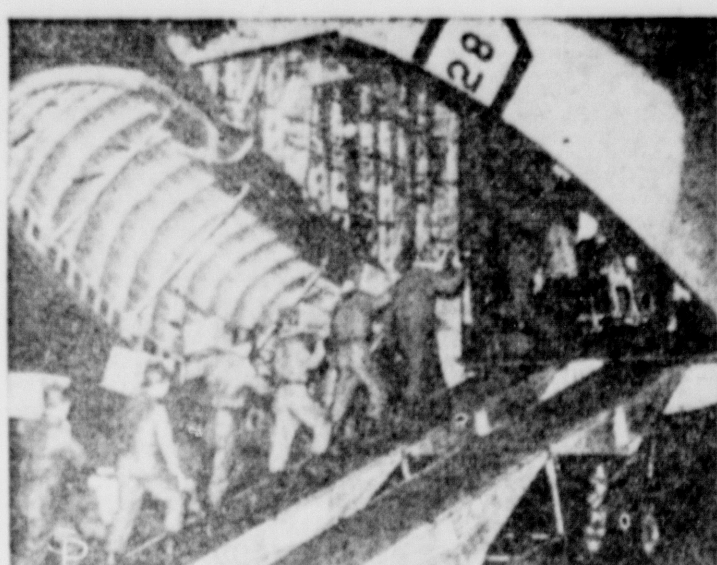

The vice president replied, "I can assure him that his oft-repeated desire that he not be drafted as a candidate for Vice president will be respected certainly by me. Certainly by me."

Nixon said he did not agree with some of his colleagues that Rockefeller should not have spoken out. He added: "He would not be true to himself if he had remained quiet."

Nixon said he had studied the 10 points brought up by Rockefeller and added "on each of these I have discussed them in more detail and more precisely than did the governor."

Several Republican Congress members backed Nixon in the dispute. Some of them said he had clearly presented his views. Others said he should wait until after the Republican convention to outline policies that will extend in some cases beyond the Eisenhower program.

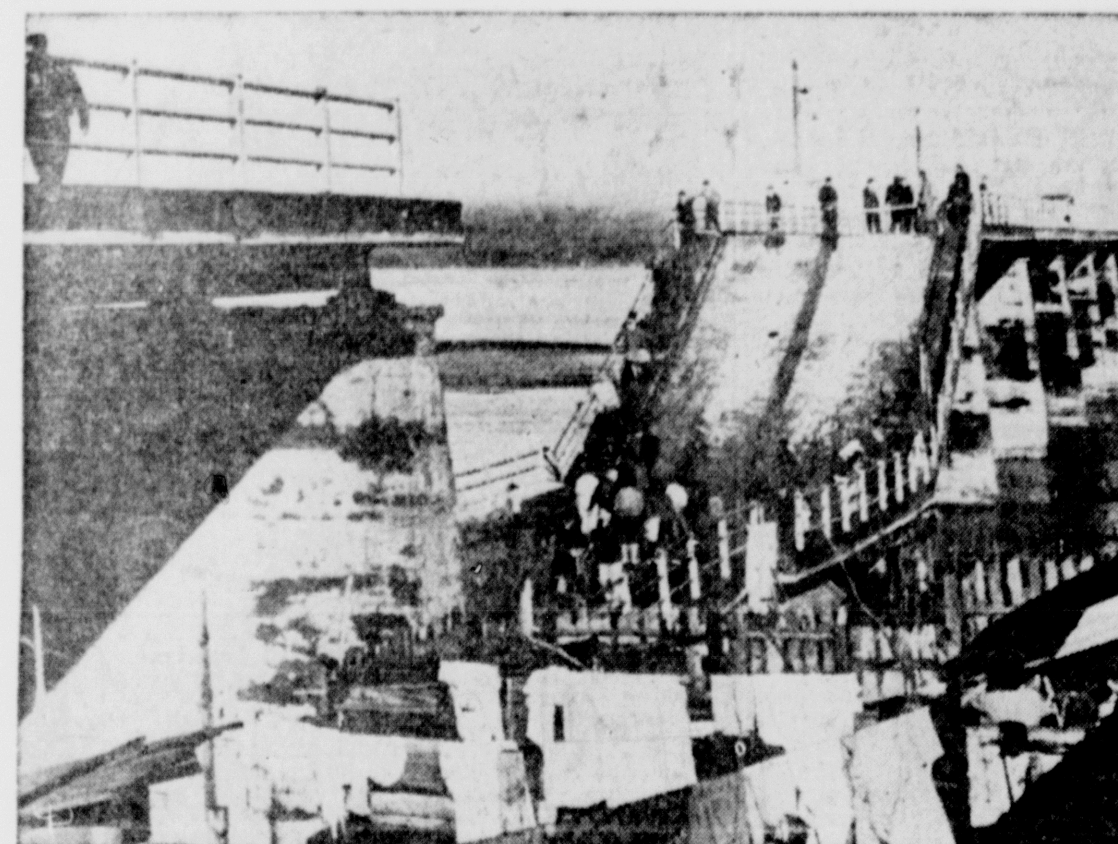

Rockefeller noted these varying views and said: "I find it difficult to reconcile the contradictory responses by the vice president and his supporters." He added the vice president "today insists that he has spoken his views on

Pickaway Grange Report

MT. PLEASANT
 Mt. Pleasant Grange met Wednesday in regular session, with Worthy Master Lewis Dean in charge. Twenty one members were present.

During the business meeting an appeal for aid was answered. A letter from Mr. Dowler was read concerning the County Fair Booths. They are to have a theme this year pertaining to the Sesquicentennial.

The secretary read an invitation to Washington D. C. June 29 for the dedication of the National Grange Building. Discussion on resolutions for the State Convention was held.

all national issues in great detail.

"But his supporters simultaneously insist that he has been perfectly correct in not stating his views until after the Republican convention."

Rockefeller expressed no surprise when told that a majority of his state's Republican members of Congress reportedly were supporting Nixon for the nomination. The 18 were polled Wednesday night.

"Is there anything new about that?" he asked.

tabled for the next meeting.

The Grange decided to have a picnic Sunday, June 26, at Hargus Lake. Everyone is to bring a basket and prepared drink.

The Home Economics chairman, Mrs. Annabelle Mowery, reminded the Grange is to serve lunch at the July Bloodmobile visit.

INSURANCE agent Darrell Hatfield announced that Open House will be observed June 25 at the Grange Mutual Offices in Columbus starting 8 a. m. through 4:45 p. m.

The program, in charge of Lecturer Amelia Wardell, was on current events. Three members were asked to choose their own subject and discuss it. Mrs. Bea Bumgarner talked on wheat control. She urged everyone interested in wheat growing to read and study about this subject so they will know how to vote when the time comes.

Mrs. Marvene Rihl chose the subject of segregation. She read parts of an article on this trouble in Atlanta, Ga.

These discussions proved to be very interesting so it will be continued at the next meeting, with different members taking part.

Mrs. Amy Rittinger was to present a topic at this meeting, but was unable to be present. It is hoped she will give it at the next meeting, July 13.

Winners of the Baking Contest were Sue Rihl, first; Amelia Wardell, second; Elinor Miller, third and Laura Hatfield, fourth. Mrs. Dick Tootle was the judge. There were no entries in the Sewing Contest.

Firemen Get Three Calls

Two emergency runs and one fire call highlighted activity for the Circleville Fire Department yesterday.

Ruth Carter, 411 E. Union St., was taken to Berger Hospital at 12:20 p. m. Firemen said she apparently suffered a stroke.

At 1:05 p. m. Beverly Zwicker, Tarlton, was rushed to the hospital. According to the department, she became sick while in the vicinity of Court and Main Sts.

At 5 p. m. the fire truck was called to S. Court to check a car owned by Robert Banton, Adelphi. Firemen said the trouble was caused by a cigarette in the auto's back seat.

"This is the crux of the issue I have raised. The people, the Republican party and the delegates to the Republican convention are entitled to know what a 'new program' means. They have a right to know before, not after, the nomination of a candidate, precisely where he stands."

As the dispute between Rockefeller and Nixon continued, Democrats watched happily from the sidelines. Former President Harry S. Truman said:

"It shouldn't hurt us any. The more they fight the better satisfied I am."

Rockefeller touched off the first fireworks Wednesday in a lengthy statement which called on Nixon to spell out his views on top issues.

The governor listed his own views and was critical of parts of the Eisenhower administration's program.

Nixon held off a reply until Camden, N. J. noting that Rockefeller heads one of the largest delegations to the nominating convention, the vice president said:

"I would be willing to sit down with the head of any delegation and discuss all the issues. One way to resolve the issue is for the governor to meet with me and discuss all the issues in depth." He said that if Rockefeller wants to meet before the television cameras for such a discussion in depth "I am sure it can be arranged."

Before Rockefeller turned down the idea, Nixon accepted an invitation of the American Broadcasting Co. to appear on its radio and television network for a discussion with the governor.

Nixon, considered a shoo-in for the Republican presidential nomination, was asked at the news conference if he would accept Rockefeller as a running mate. Rockefeller has repeatedly said he would not accept the vice presidential nomination but has stated he would accept a presidential draft.

The vice president replied, "I can assure him that his oft-repeated desire that he not be drafted as a candidate for Vice president will be respected certainly by me. Certainly by me."

Nixon said he did not agree with some of his colleagues that Rockefeller should not have spoken out.

He added: "He would not be true to himself if he had remained quiet."

Nixon said he had studied the 10 points brought up by Rockefeller and added "on each of these I have discussed them in more detail and more precisely than did the governor."

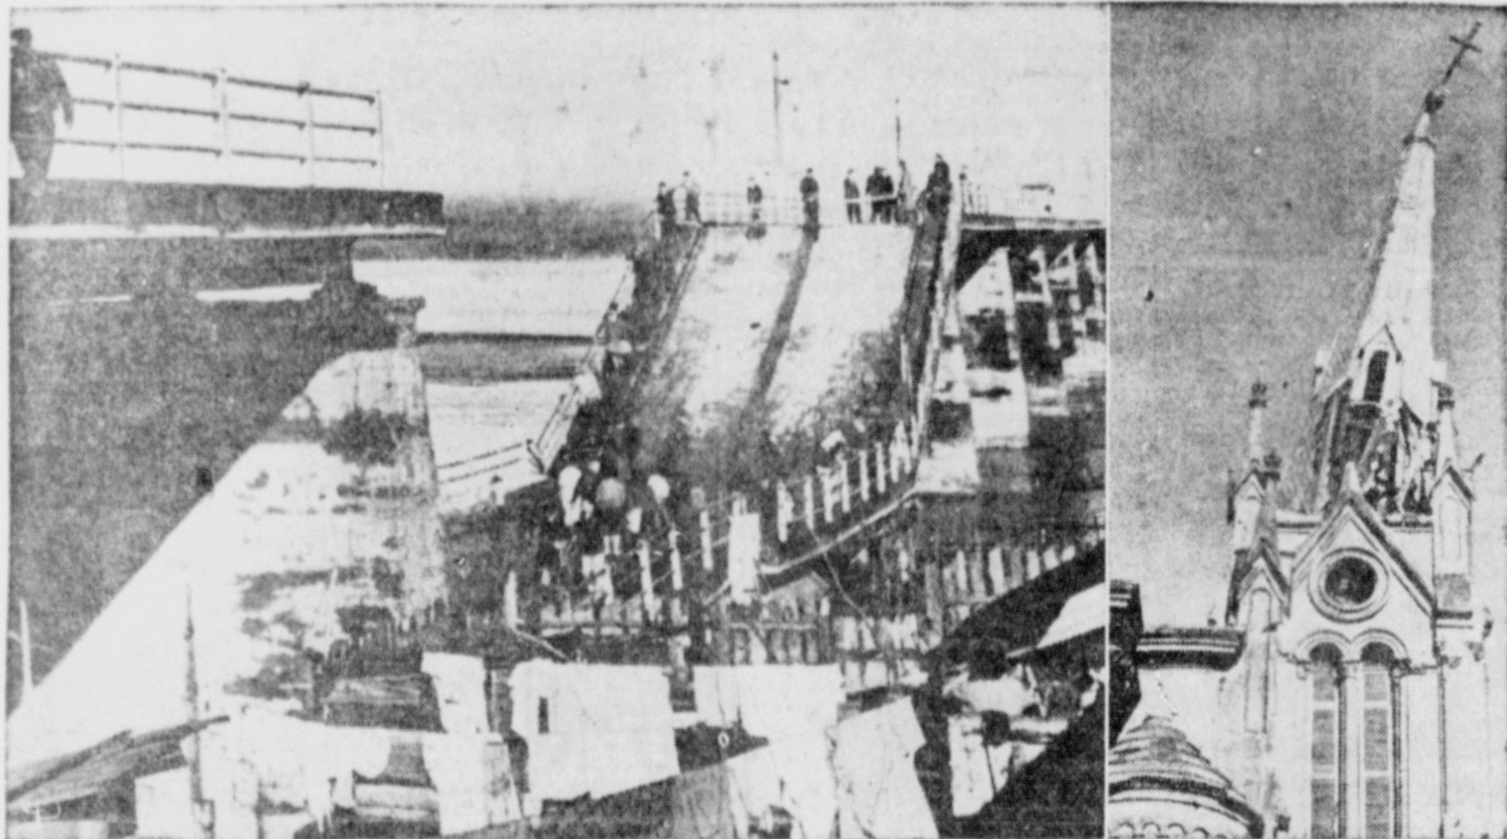

Several Republican Congress members backed Nixon in the dispute. Some of them said he had clearly presented his views. Others said he should wait until after the Republican convention to outline policies that will extend in some cases beyond the Eisenhower program.

Rockefeller noted these varying views and said: "I find it difficult to reconcile the contradictory responses by the vice president and his supporters." He added the vice president "today insists that he has spoken his views on

Pickaway Grange Report

MT. PLEASANT

Mt. Pleasant Grange met Wednesday in regular session, with Worthy Master Lewis Dean in charge. Twenty-one members were present.

During the business meeting an appeal for aid was answered. A letter from Mr. Dowler was read concerning the County Fair Booths. They are to have a theme this year pertaining to the Sesquicentennial.

The secretary read an invitation to Washington D. C. June 29 for the dedication of the National Grange Building. Discussion on resolutions for the State Convention was all national issues in great detail.

"But his supporters simultaneously insist that he has been perfectly correct in not stating his views until after the Republican convention."

Rockefeller expressed no surprise when told that a majority of his state's Republican members of Congress reportedly were supporting Nixon for the nomination. The 18 were polled Wednesday night.

"Is there anything new about that?" he asked.

tabled for the next meeting.

The Grange decided to have a picnic Sunday, June 26, at Hargus Lake. Everyone is to bring a basket and prepared drink.

Red-Hot Injuns Out To Take Yankee Scalp

Both Teams Sporting Win Streaks Going Into 4-Game Series

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Cleveland Indians, leading the American League by 1 1/2 games now that Baltimore's Baby Birds have laid an egg, roll into Yankee Stadium for the opener of a four-game series tonight in a showdown with the revived New York Yankees.

Cleveland now has four wins in a row, sweeping a four-game set at Boston with a 3-2 decision over the last place Red Sox Thursday. Baltimore, blowing a 1 1/2-game lead in 48 hours, dropped a twilight doubleheader to Detroit, 7-5 and 7-4, as the Tigers swept the four-game series and handed the Orioles their sixth defeat in eight games.

The Yankees, 3 1/2 games behind after winning five of their last six, made it three straight over Chicago with a 5-2 victory that spilled the White Sox to fifth, .002 percentage points behind Detroit. Kansas City ended its losing string at five with a 7-2 victory at Washington.

In the National League, Pittsburgh regained a two-game lead with an 11-3 victory at Chicago while Cincinnati whipped second place San Francisco 7-4. Third place Milwaukee, 4 1/2 games behind, defeated Los Angeles 6-5 in the only other game scheduled.

A sixth-inning home run by George Strickland, the first of the year by the Cleveland third baseman, hung the defeat on Bill Monbouquette (5-5). Rookie Wynn Hawkins (4-3) needed two innings of two-hit, shutout relief by Johnny Klippstein for his first victory in three decisions.

The Tigers made it six out of seven on a pair of home runs by Frank Bolling, who drove in five runs to beat reliever Arnie Portocarrero (3-2) in the opener. Then the Tiger second baseman triggered a five-run fifth with a two-run homer as Detroit wiped out a 2-1 Baltimore lead and beat Hal (Skinny) Brown (5-2).

Mickey Mantle's two-run homer in the fourth inning, his 11th of the year, did it for the Yankees. Rookie Johnny James (2-0) won it in relief. Frank Baumann (3-3) was the loser.

The A's junked their slump with six runs on seven consecutive hits with two out in the fifth inning. Danny Kravitz' first AL home run, a three-run, inside-the-park run, was the big blow off loser Pedro Ramos (3-7). Ken Johnson (2-3) was the winner.

Ashville Entry Wins Trapshoot

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — The doubles championships and preliminary handicap shooting events get underway with a bang today in the 74th annual Ohio State Trap Shooting Association tournament.

Handicap shooters may be placed anywhere from 19 to 27 yards or more from the line. Normal distance is 16 yards.

In Thursday's events, Dale Millar of Ashville came out ahead in a shootoff to win the Class A crown. He and John Sternberger of Dayton had tied with 198 each of a possible 200. In the shootoff Millar shattered all of the 75 clay birds to Sternberger's 74.

Unknowns Setting Pace In Oklahoma City Open

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The south wind — always a factor in Oklahoma golf tournaments — resumed Thursday after being calm several days but it didn't stop Ernie Vossler and Bobby Goetz from grabbing the lead in the first round of the Oklahoma City Open.

Vossler, a veteran from Midland, Tex., and Goetz, a rookie on the professional circuit from Tulsa, Okla., fired 5-under par 66's over the 6,440-yard, par 71 Twin Hills Country Club course.

The 72-hole, $30,000 tournament ends Sunday.

Sugar Ray Favored by 8-5 To Dethrone Middle King

BOSTON (AP) — Challenger Sugar Ray Robinson rules an 8-to-5 favorite to keep his unbeaten rematch record intact against champion Paul Pender tonight in a two-state middleweight title fight.

The entire gate receipts had been tied up by court orders hours before the noon weigh-in at the Massachusetts Boxing Commission.

Pender, 11 years the junior of 40-year-old Sugar Ray, won the New York-Massachusetts version of the world 160 pound championship by beating Robinson in a 15 round split decision here Jan. 22.

Though a late influx of money is expected to back the one-time fireman from suburban Brookline, Robinson is the people's choice to win in the 15 rounder at Boston Garden.

Television and radio (NBC, 9 p.m. Eastern Standard time) will carry the scrap nationally with the Boston - Providence area blacked out on TV.

Robinson, stripped of his crown by the National Boxing Assn. and suspended in New York which nevertheless recognizes the title bout, is out to win the middle crown for the sixth time in his 22nd championship encounter. As the challenger he gets $105,000 of the $150,000 TV money.

The gate receipts, which may reach $100,000 off promoter Sam Silverman's estimate of an 11,000 attendance, were tied up late Thursday by restraining orders issued by Judge Charles Bolster in Superior Court.

Each fighter is supposed to receive 30 per cent of the gate with the balance going to Silverman.

The orders followed the two rapid-fire suits. One by a Baltimore boxing club asked a $9,000 claim from Robinson for failing

Arcaro Eyes Belmont Stakes

Jockey Has Big Hopes For Winner of Derby

NEW YORK (AP) — Vive weeks and two defeats later, Eddie Arcaro gets his chance Saturday to put Kentucky Derby winner Venetian Way back on the victory trial in the 92nd running of the $125,000-added Belmont Stakes.

Eddie also has an opportunity to set a personal record of seven victories in the 1 1/4-mile test for 3-year-old horses.

Trainer Vic Sovinski announced late Thursday that he had decided on the 44-year-old Arcaro as the rider of the chestnut colt from Isaac Blumberg's Sunny Blue Farm in the last of the triple Crown classics.

Arcaro almost got the Venetian Way assignment in the Kentucky Derby. But on the eve of the May 7 race, Sovinski decided to stick with out-spoken Bill Hartack. Since winning the derby by 3 1/2 lengths, Venetian has finished fifth in the Preakness and fourth in the Jersey derby.

Eddie has ridden in every Belmont stakes since 1937 except in 1943, when he was under suspension. His last winner was with Nashua in 1955. Before that he won with One Count (1952), Citation (1948), Pavot (1945), Shut Out (1942) and Whirlaway (1941).

The presence of Arcaro on his back is almost certain to shorten the odds on Venetian Way. But Bally Ache, the Turfand Syndicate's $1,250,000 purchase after winning the Preakness, remained the firm 8-5 choice as the names of the horses were dropped into the entry box this morning. Bally Ache also won the Jersey derby, edging C. V. Whitney's Tompon in a ding dong duel.

Eight horses are expected to be entered. If eight run, the purse will be a record $152,150. All carry 126 pounds.

Local Golfers In Tourney

Three local linksmen are participating in Ohio's 20th Senior Golf Championship tournament at Columbus.

Representing this area are Dr. Walter Heine, Karl Hermann and Harry S. Metter. Scores yesterday were Heine 46-49-95, Hermann, 43-47-90 and Metter 45-48-93.

A wide open race appeared in the making as nine players were hunched within five strokes for the dash to the wire.

John R. Jacobs, 55-year-old Canton insurance executive, was out front by a stroke with 36-38-74 over Columbus Country Club's 6,508-yard par 35-37-72 layout. Four birdies, three of them on par five holes, helped him into the pace-setter's role.

Only nine of the 135 starters were able to break 80, despite the perfect playing conditions.

J. C. Watson, 56-year-old Steubenville stock broker, was the No. 1 challenger at the end of the first 18 of the 36-hole medal play test. His 38-37-75 left him a stroke off the pace. He flew into town in time to tee off Thursday after competing the previous two days in the national seniors at Rye, N.Y.

Close up, and with a good chance to close the gap, were Cincinnati's R. Gale Evans and Don W. Gill, the latter the 1958 champion, at 76; Alton Purcell of Cincinnati, 77; J. B. Bixler of Akron and Herb Lape of Columbus at 78, and Ralph Wagner of Dayton and 1952 champion John Valuska of Steubenville at 79.

Neil Ransick of Cincinnati, the 1936 Ohio Amateur champion, was seven strokes back with 81, and Walter Cope of Lima, 1953 winner of the seniors crown, had 83.

Circleville Oil, Elks Take League Leads

Circleville Oil and BPO Elks took over leads in their respective leagues with resounding victories last night.

The Oilers dumped Lincoln Platte, 17-2. The Elks blasted The Herald, 25-11. Both winning teams have 2-0 slates, good for first places.

Bobby Dean hurled the Elks to the win while the Herald's J. Young absorbed the defeat. It was last year's defending champion's second straight defeat.

Plastic and Circleville Oil played on fairly even terms for three innings. But the Oilers unloaded in the fourth, fifth and sixth frames for 13 runs to back winning hurler, Dale Byrd.

BILL Pritchard was the loser. He and relievers, Martindale and Jack White, gave up 10 hits, 10 walks and fanned 10. Byrd held Plastic to six hits, while walking four and whiffing 11.

Barry Adams and Branson Hawkes were Circleville Oil's top sluggers with two hits each, which included a pair of doubles. Other two-baggers were poled by Mike Humphries and Payne.

Jack White and Tom Farmer went 2 for 3 for Lincoln Plastic. White had the only extra base hit, a double. Plastic committed four errors and Circleville Oil, two.

Four games take the spotlight today. Second National (1-0) faces the Jaycees (1-0) at 5:15 p. m. on the Southend Playground in a battle of the undefeateds.

Coca Cola (1-0) meets Ralston Purina (0-1) at 5:15 p. m. on the Little League diamond and Kewanis (1-0) battles Chamber of Commerce (1-0) at 5:15 p. m. on the softball diamond in another battle of undefeated sides.

Invading Ashville (1-0) will make its first appearance here at 7:30 p. m. when DuPont (0-1) plays host on the softball diamond under the lights.

One game is scheduled for 5:15 p. m. tomorrow on the softball diamond. It is Rotary (0-1) against Blue Ribbon Dairy (0-1) in a match of the newcomers.

D, Days Cop Softball Wins

'D' Shift took over the lead in the Circleville DuPont Softball League last night with a 6-3 victory over 'C' Shift.

In the other half of the double-header, Days edged 'B' Shift 7-5. Bill Smith hurled the win for Days allowing just two hits while fanning 12.

Bill McKinney absorbed the loss, giving up six hits and whiffing 12. Smith aided his own cause with a home run and teammate, Bob Bartholomew, went 3 for 4 at the plate. McKinney had a double for 'B' Shift.

Warren Elliott was the winning pitcher for 'D' Shift, allowing eight hits and striking out five. The loss was charged to Dick Weaver, who gave up four hits, while fanning four.

ELLIOTT had the only extra base hit, a two-bagger. Ted Davis was 3 for 4 at the plate for 'D' Shift.

Runnerup to 'D' Shift is 'C' Shift with a 2-1 slate. 'A' Shift is third with 2-2 and 'B' Shift is fourth with 1-2 record. Days is last with a 1-3 slate. One game for each team is left in the first round.

Jets' Olivo Stops Bisons

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Havana Sugar Kings have messed up Toronto's plans of getting a healthy lead in the International League, but a 40-year-old pitcher making his first start in Triple-A ball has done even more to hurt the surging Buffalo Bisons.

Havana, in fourth place 10 1/2 games behind the league-leading Leafs, gained a split in a four game series with the leaders Thursday night as Borrego Alvarez' three-run homer in the 13th inning gave the Cubans a 5-2 victory.

Rod Dimeles Olivo, Columbus 40-year-old iron arm pitcher from Mexico, kept the Bisons from moving within a half game of the lead as he turned in a four-hit 7-2 victory. The loss broke Buffalo's seven-game winning streak and Columbus' eight game losing skid.

Montreal won its second straight 2-0 over Miami and Richmond clipped Rochester 6-4.

Olivo, after 15 consecutive relief appearances, struck out nine and walked only one. He gave a home run to Lou Vassie for a short-lived 1-0 Buffalo lead but the Jets chased lower Ken Lehman (7-3) with a three-run third triple in three games.

Lady Golf Play Ends in 5-Way Tie

Ellen Powell, Dotti Smith, Nora McKinney, Sarah Monson and Janet Sibbick all tied for top honors in "Bingle, Bangle Bungle" golf competition yesterday at the Pickaway Country Club.

The Ladies Day activity had 28 participating women golfers. Low net honors went to Betty Young. Low putts was won by Marge Biscioti.

Next golf date for the ladies starts 9 a. m. Thursday.

Favorite Is Upset In Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Miss Braden Volo won the feature seventh race in an upset at Scioto Downs Thursday night. It was a three-horse photo finish.

Johnny Altizer drove the 4-year-old pacer to a 2-04 2-5 time over the mile to return $20.00. The race was for Class B pacers and had a $1,000 purse.

Favored Doc Will came in second. Miss Braden Volo is owned by Frank Shoemaker of Urbana, Ill.

Dial-Twisting Is Required To Find 'New' TV Programs

NEW YORK (AP) — It may require a little dial twisting, but it is still possible to find a quantity of new and potentially interesting viewing in the schedules of the three major networks during the next week.

The second part of NBC's "Sacco and Vanzetti Story" will be shown tonight (8:30-9:30). While the Reginald Rose drama drew mixed reviews and has fired up a new 30-year-old controversy, it is a show that people have been and will be talking about.

Also on NBC tonight 10 p.m. to conclusion, is the middleweight championship fight between Sugar Ray Robinson and Paul Pender, from Boston.

On Saturday, CBS will televise the 90th running of the Belmont Stakes, from New York (4:30-5 p.m.). NBC's World Wide 60 series (9:30-10:30 p.m.) will be devoted to politics and primary elections.

Ohio Fishing Conditions Are Getting 'Good'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's lakes and streams are coming back into good fishing condition, and what is more important, anglers are reporting some good catches.

The outlook compiled by the Ohio Divisions of Wildlife is the most promising in recent weeks. Here's the rundown by districts:

Northwestern—Waters in this area are probably in poorer condition than anywhere else in the state. The brightest spots seem to be Grand Lake St. Marys, Oxbow Lake and a few streams in Defiance, Mercer and Wyandot counties.

East central and southeastern—Goo fishing is reported from a number of lakes in the district. Some of the best seem to be: Clouse, Alma, Veto, Forked Run and Burr Oak. A number of streams including the Muskingum and Hocking also report fair to good fishing results.

Central and southern—Somp muskies have been taken from Rocky Fork Lake during the past week. Other lakes having clear water and good fishing are: Delaware, Jackson, Buckeye, Vesuvius and Pine. Most major streams including the Secoti, Big and Little Darby, Big and Little Walnut all are in fine condition. Other area streams such as the Kokosing, Deer Creek are likewise in good condition.

Southwestern—Fishermen are enjoying good success throughout most of the district. Major lakes including: Grant, Kiser, Hosterman, Clark, Stonelick, Cowan, Indian, Acton and Loran all have perfect fishing conditions and fishing for bass, bluegills, crappies and catfish has been good. Major streams are likewise mostly fair to good.

In all backswings the left arm should be pointed away, more or less, from the line of flight.

Arm Position Overlooked

If you're having difficulty with the distance or accuracy of your shots the cause may be in the backswing position of your left arm as it relates to the line of flight.

In all backswings the extended left arm should be pointed away, more or less, from the line of play. Many players overlook this need. They concentrate on keeping the arm extended, but as the backswing progresses, the movement of the arm mainly is upward.

This vertical movement means that the hands and club are not travelling in the right plane, also that the proper windup isn't being made. The requirements of the proper plane and windup can be met only when the extended left arm moves somewhat away from the line of play.

This kind of movement places you in position to use power and leverage in whipping your club downward through the ball.

Bye Bye Byrd Regains Edge In Pace Duel

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP) — The duel between Bye Bye Byrd and Widower Creed for pacing and money winning honors today favored Bye Bye Byrd by a margin of 3-2 in races and $5,678 in cash.

When Bye Bye Byrd defeated Widower Creed by a length in the second leg of Yonkers Raceway's International Pacing Series Thursday night, he earned $25,000 to boost his all-time earnings to $61,484—a record for pacers. Widower Creed's $12,500 for second sent his bank account to $355,806.

Bye Bye Byrd, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Rex Larkin of Chicago and driven by Clint Hodgins, was last a week ago as Widower Creed won the 1 1/2-mile leg of the three-race series in world record equaling time.

But this time, Bye Bye found the 1 1/4 mile jaunt more to his liking and posted a track record time of 2:33 2-5.

Dial-Twisting Is Required To Find 'New' TV Programs

NEW YORK (AP)—It may require a little dial twisting, but it is still possible to find a quantity of new and potentially interesting viewing in the schedules of the three major networks during the next week.

The second part of NBC's "Sacco and Vanzetti Story" will be shown tonight (8:30-9:30). While the Reginald Rose drama drew mixed reviews and has fired up a new 30-year-old controversy, it is a show that people have been and will be talking about.

Also on NBC tonight 10 p.m. to conclusion, is the middleweight championship fight between Sugar Ray Robinson and Paul Pender, from Boston.

On Saturday, CBS will televise the 90th running of the Belmont Stakes, from New York (4:30-5 p.m.). NBC's World Wide 60 series (9:30-10:30 p.m.) will be devoted to politics and primary elections.

Berger Hospital

work is surgery, which requires more manpower.
He said Chillicothe's surgery work load is only 27 per cent and Mercy's is 19 per cent. He said the high amount of surgery and the fact that Berger must spread its costs over a meager 41 beds are the two reasons for the higher rates and inability to operate at maximum.
Board members also said that some of the surrounding hospitals are supported from other sources, while Berger has been operating strictly from hospital income. They stated several area hospitals are operating in the "Red".
They said University used state funds to offset high costs, and also uses interns for many cases. Miss Reese said University never allows an intern to handle a case by himself unless a staff of doctors is on hand. She also stated that Fayette Memorial has two or three surgeons on its staff and it is still under Berger's rate by $4.97.

Both relief agencies claim that surgical costs here are double other hospitals. They said that a tonsillectomy here costs nearly $100 compared to $54 at Children's Hospital.

ANOTHER announcement by the Board of Governors was that the relief rate will probably be more than $28 per day in the contract up for renewal. The board said the workmen's compensation rate for the new year will be $29.82 or for renewal. The board said the hospital could save $10,000 to $20,000 per year.
They also stated that if the hospital employees went under Social Security instead of the present State Employees' Retirement Fund, the hospital could save $10,000 to $20,000 per year.

One member said it is the board's theory that persons using the hospital should pay for its operation, not the county taxpayers.
"But if we are forced to give relief agencies their choice of rates, we must derive another source of revenue, meaning the taxpayer, to offset our losses", board member Tom A. Renick stated.

He said that whatever way the agencies pay, the taxpayers are going to lose.

But this does not alleviate the problem faced by the County Welfare Department, which already has cut food allotments 70 per cent. Miss Reese said indigent families are faced with lower food allowances because medical bills are mounting daily.

SHEA SAID HE has orders from his Commission to send no more Soldier patients to Berger unless hospital bills are itemized and he is given the choice of taking the lower of regular or relief rates.

Hospital Board member Robert L. Brehmer Sr. said it is alright with the Board of Governors, they don't want relief cases anyhow.

Board member Russell Palm said the Governors are working on operational problems at the hospital at present.

Following the meeting, several county officials indicated they feel as if there are some facts of Berger Hospital's operations over which the Board of Governors has no control.

They also observed that it would seem to be better for Berger Hospital, the relief agencies and the taxpayers if all indigent patients are taken to out-of-county hospitals where costs are lower.

U.S. President

Japan I would think that the necessity for protection would be adequately handled by the capable forces of the Japanese government."

The demonstrations had been called out by Zengakuren, Japan's extreme leftist student federation, and the leftist Sohyo Federation of Labor Unions.

Japanese police finally cleared an opening around the battered car in which Hagerty, Stephens and U.S. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur II had been held prisoner. Then a U.S. Marine helicopter swooped down, picked them up and flew them to an Army base.

From there they drove to the back gate of the heavily guarded U.S. Embassy and slipped in, escaping 8,000 demonstrators massed out front. Within a few minutes, however, several hundred students rushed up to the back gate and battled police, who kept them from breaking into the embassy compound.

Hagerty refused to see leaders of the demonstrators, and the crowd settled down for an all-night vigil in front of the embassy, chanting and shouting slogans attacking Hagerty, the President's visit and Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi.

Armed American guards stood watch at the embassy entrances. It was the most violent anti-American outburst since leftist opponents of the new security pact began staging daily demonstrations three weeks ago against the Kishi government and Eisenhower's visit.

The airport demonstration had been promised for days, and MacArthur came out by helicopter to escape the thousands blocking one access road to the airport and lining the other. But Hagerty apparently refused to bow to the leftists and chose to try to reach the city by car as originally scheduled.

Several hundred police at first made only token attempts to intervene as the mob of students and labor union members besieged Hagerty after his arrival from Okinawa to complete arrangements for Eisenhower's visit. Shouting "Hagerty go home," the mob rushed the 1956 embassy Cadillac as it started off.

The screaming, chanting demonstrators beat on the sides of the car, kicked at the doors and cracked windows on both sides. Some crawled on top. But no one tried to enter the car or physically harm the occupants. Nor did they molest other American cars in the caravan.

The booklet was drawn up and revised through the efforts of City Council, the City Planning and Zoning Commission, Solicitor Robert Huffer and Mayor Ben H. Gordon and city officials.

"I Don't Want the STRAW VOTE

JUST HONEST-TO-GOODNESS BEER DRINKERS!"

LAST NIGHT, the man from Wiedemann made it clear he wasn't after the soda pop vote. "I want only honest-to-goodness beer drinkers on my side," he opined.

"Wiedemann's is the most drinkable beer of all!" he continued. "It goes down easy, glass after glass, because we brew in live flavor, brew out heavy after-taste!"

A constituent at the back of the hall shouted, "That's telling 'em, brother!" He replied, "I don't know who you are, friend, but thanks."

The constituent was in fact later identified as the Candidate's brother.

work is surgery, which requires more manpower.

He said Chillicothe's surgery work load is only 27 per cent and Mercy's is 19 per cent. He said the high amount of surgery and the fact that Berger must spread its costs over a meager 41 beds are the two reasons for the higher rates and inability to operate at maximum.

Board members also said that some of the surrounding hospitals are supported from other sources, while Berger has been operating strictly from hospital income. They stated several area hospitals are operating in the "Red".

They said University used state funds to offset high costs, and also uses interns for many cases. Miss Reese said University never allows an intern to handle a case by himself unless a staff of doctors is on hand. She also stated that Fayette Memorial has two or three surgeons on its staff and it is still under Berger's rate by $4.97.

Both relief agencies claim that surgical costs here are double other hospitals. They said that a tonsillectomy here costs nearly $100 compared to $54 at Children's Hospital.

ANOTHER announcement by the Board of Governors was that the relief rate will probably be more than $28 per day in the contract for renewal. The board said the workmen's compensation rate for the new year will be $29.82 or They also stated that if the hospital employees went under Social Security instead of the present State Employees' Retirement Fund, the hospital could save $10,000 to $20,000 per year.

One member said it is the board's theory that persons using the hospital should pay for its operation, not the county taxpayers. "But if we are forced to give relief agencies their choice of rates, we must derive another source of revenue, meaning the taxpayer, to offset our losses", board member Tom A. Renick stated.

He said that whatever way the agencies pay, the taxpayers are going to lose.

But this does not alleviate the problem faced by the County Welfare Department, which already has cut food allotments 70 per cent. Miss Reese said indigent families are faced with lower food allowances because medical bills are mounting daily.

SHEA SAID HE has orders from his Commission to send no more hospital patients to Berger unless hospital bills are itemized and he is given the choice of taking the lower of regular or relief rates.

Hospital Board member Robert L. Brehmer Sr. said it is alright with the Board of Governors, they don't want relief cases anyhow.

Board member Russell Palm said the Governors are working on operational problems at the hospital at present.

Following the meeting, several county officials indicated they feel as if there are some facts of Berger Hospital's operations over which the Board of Governors has no control.

They also observed that it would seem to be better for Berger Hospital, the relief agencies and the taxpayers if all indigent patients are taken to out-of-county hospitals where costs are lower.

Japan. I would think that the necessity for protection would be adequately handled by the capable forces of the Japanese government."

The demonstrations had been called out by Zengakuren, Japan's extreme leftist student federation, and the leftist Sohyo Federation of Labor Unions.

Japanese police finally cleared an opening around the battered car in which Hagerty, Stephens and U.S. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur II had been held prisoner. Then a U.S. Marine helicopter swooped down, picked them up and flew them to an Army base.

From there they drove to the back gate of the heavily guarded U.S. Embassy and slipped in, escaping 8,000 demonstrators massed out front. Within a few minutes, however, several hundred students rushed up to the back gate and battled police, who kept them from breaking into the embassy compound.

Hagerty refused to see leaders of the demonstrators, and the crowd settled down for an all-night vigil in front of the embassy, chanting and shouting slogans attacking Hagerty, the President's visit and Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi.

Armed American guards stood watch at the embassy entrances.

It was the most violent anti-American outburst since leftist opponents of the new security pact began staging daily demonstrations three weeks ago against the Kishi government and Eisenhower's visit.

The airport demonstration had been promised for days, and MacArthur came out by helicopter to escape the thousands blocking one access road to the airport and lining the other. But Hagerty apparently refused to bow to the leftists and chose to try to reach the city by car as originally scheduled.

Several hundred police at first made only token attempts to intervene as the mob of students and labor union members besieged Hagerty after his arrival from Okinawa to complete arrangement for Eisenhower's visit.

Shouting "Hagerty to home," the mob rushed the 1956 embassy Cadillac as it started off.

The screaming, chanting demonstrators beat on the sides of the car, kicked at the doors and cracked windows on both sides. Some crawled on top. But no one tried to enter the car or physically harm the occupants. Nor did they molest other American cars in the caravan.

American plainclothes guards and embassy officials held their bodies against the outside of the car to protect those inside. Hagerty and the other occupants sat inside, calmly smoking. Hagerty took pictures with a small camera.

Finally 1,000 police rushed in.

City Publishes Regulations on Subdivisions

The City of Circleville has published a comprehensive booklet on subdivision regulations.

Sesquicentennial Tour Is Readied

Officials of the Pickaway County Historical Society today reminded residents of the Tri-Township Sesquicentennial Tour scheduled for Sunday afternoon.

The three townships to be visited are Wayne, Deercreek and Perry. The Wayne Twp. tour will take visitors through the William Barthelmas home, Route 2.

The Perry Twp. tour will journey through the Charles Mills home, located on Route 277, three miles north of the Route 22 intersection.

The booklet was drawn up and revised through the efforts of City Council, the City Planning and Zoning Commission, Solicitor Robert Huffer and Mayor Ben H. Gordon and city officers.

Main purpose of the easy to read pamphlet is to outline a standard procedure for subdividers to follow when building or planning to build here. The completed booklet represents several years of study on the oft-mentioned subdivision problem in Circleville.

The set of regulations is divided into 12 sections. The 11 sections concerning builders are: general information, definitions and purposes, jurisdiction and procedure, standard of design, improvements, preliminary plans, final plat, general specifications and standard plans for street paving, variations and exceptions, administration and amendment and violation and penalty.

City officials today urged all subdividers with local interests to obtain and study the booklet.

"I Don't Want the
STRAW VOTE

JUST HONEST-TO-GOODNESS BEER DRINKERS!"

LAST NIGHT, the man from Wiedemann made it clear he wasn't after the soda pop vote. "I want only honest-to-goodness beer drinkers on my side," he opined.

"Wiedemann's is the most drinkable beer of all!" he continued. "It goes down easy, glass after glass, because we brew in live flavor, brew out heavy after-taste!"

A constituent at the back of the hall shouted, "That's telling 'em, brother!" He replied, "I don't know who you are, friend, but thanks."

The constituent was in fact later identified as the Candidate's brother.
